ARCHION

King City Secondary School '96-'97

It's what's inside that counts.

That King Thing

It was the best of times, it was the worst of times... that's right, another year at KCSS has drawn to a close. For some, it was their last. This memory-filled Archon represents the last memory of a successful high school career. For others, it was their first, with only a fraction of their years ahead completed. No matter who you are, the year was undoubtedly a special one, packed from beginning to end with unique memories that could only be made at King City Secondary School. We tried to pack everything in here for you, so please enjoy your archon. Never forget your friends, all the good times, and everything you've learned at King... where it's what's inside that counts!

Below: Is that Amy Tanaka holding another trophy? This one's for our field hockey team...way to go girls!

Right: Is this Desmond and Denver from KCSS? Or could it be the Ultimate Warrior and Hulk Hogan?

Above: Hey, check it out! 3 beautiful girls and a whole lot of Lion spirit! Now that's what I call a successful day!

Right: The ever-spirited leadership class show off what got the school cheering.

Right: Bobby Fagogenis, (nice hair) our all star quarterback, (what a guy) with the talented cheerleading team.

The Spirit Inside at KCSS

This year's pep rally was an amazing success...who knew we had so much spirit inside?

Right: Mike Reeves enjoys his time in the spotlight... maybe a little too much!

After numerous unfortunate postponements, the spirited students at KCSS began to wonder if the Pep Rally was just a fading memory from last year. To the rescue, however, came the leadership class...especially four dedicated young leaders who worked day and night to make this event happen. Everyone sported their green and gold apparel and jammed along to the teams' music. The cheerleaders danced up a storm, and surprised everyone with a new cheer to go with our new school logo. Our field hockey team was especially riled up, and justifiably so! They won the York Region Championships the day before. All in all, the day was a giant success--and we finally decided on an identity for our teams--GO LIONS, GO!!

Outside all together...Inside all confused

They look like they've got it all together, but these juniors were pretty confused throughout the month of September

Right: Friends doing what friends do best: laughing and having a good time together.

A day in the life of a junior isn't the most demanding one. Sure, they work, but only when it's absolutely necessary. In fact, most like to do as little as possible. (That is probably no surprise to the teachers at KCSS.) This is the time when no one really knows what's going on or even really cares, for that matter. The future seems like a very distant place...so why worry about it now?

Above: Looks like all play and no work for these feisty juniors. Is this actually what goes on in those junior level classes?

Right: First week of classes was so traumatic for these youngsters that they found comfort in each other's arms at lunch.

Right: Look Tristan, it's called a book. You use a pen and you write in it like Stephanie Coleman is doing

Left and lower left: These students make best use of their lunch hours for studying, while others have more fun preventing a build up of dust on the floor.

Below: Gillian relaxes in her spare time, confident in the knowledge that she has best prepared herself for whatever the future holds.

All around confused

By the time they finish high school, the seniors are basically confused. They are not sure where they are going with their lives, yet they feel a constant pressure to do well in school. This causes some of them to lounge around in the hallway, while it motivates others to hit the books in an effort to take control of their future.

King Camp

King Camp day was a blast!!! Although we didn't have the opportunity to go on a three day trip to Muskoka Woods, as in the past, we still had fun on our one day out of class.

In the morning, we played the name game and other get-to-know-you games inside, followed by an outdoor experience of even more get-to-know-you games.

This was followed by an afternoon filled with trust games. These are games designed to help each of the campers and counsellors to trust the other people in their group to hold them up or make sure they won't fall.

We were fed a meat sandwich with pop at lunch and were given a bandana to specify what group we were in. All in all, it was definitely an enjoyable day. From this camper's point of view, counselling in grade 12 or OAC will be just as fun.

In the afternoon on King Camp Day we played outdoor games in a circle like this one. For fun (as a filler) we played silly games like murder murder and duck duck goose.

Counsellors kick back too

Julia Auriemma, a grade 12 King Camp counsellor, kicks back with some energetic grade 9's. Julia shows her school spirit, and her tongue for the camera.

Right: YUM lunch time

For lunch that day we had meat sandwiches and pop. Some did not enjoy the selection like the counsellor in this picture.

Far Left: So that's how Jeff got all those ladies!

Left: Welcome to the 90s Andrew, the seventies were a couple of decades ago.

Welcome Grade Nines

As a wrap up to Grade nine week, King City Secondary School was the proud host of the Grade nine welcome dance. It was held on Friday October 4th in gyms 1&2. There was a special D.J. The dance started at 7:00 for grades 10- OAC. Eager grade 9's were already there with free pizza in their hands. A wide variety of music was played. This ensured that everyone would come and dance. A jumbo screen was brought in and set in front of the stage to allow the dancers to see some of the videos accompanying the music.

The Excitement Never Stops

Do you know of any better ways to spend your spare time?

Right:

...everybody get together, try to love one another right now! Grab a friend and come on over.

Whether you like eating, skateboarding, standing around or just having fun, you'll find it here. Hey,
Wendy, how's the coffee?

Whether it's during lunch or a spare, the plaza provides entertainment for all. A skateboarding haven, an earful of Metallica, the "Restaurants" infamous pizza and fries, Henry's language, and lounging OACs are just a small part of what you'll get when you make the journey over the seagull infested football field to the infamous Plaza.

Above: Where the pizza's good,
the smiles are bright, and friends are inseparable.

Right: Amanda and Mel find something to smile about—spare time, and what better place to be than at the plaza?

Right: Isn't it funny how we seem to see some of these people more often at the plaza than in class?

Going once, going twice

Who knew raising a little money could look this good?

"Going once...going twice...SOLD for $55! Not all the football players and cheerleaders went for quite that much, but all the smaller amounts added up to make this year's Football Auction a huge success. One day last fall, KCSS went back to a time when slavery was actually legal. Write it down in the books, because this was one day that the football players weren't jocks and the cheerleaders...well, let's just say that the spirit squad was a little more laid back than usual. The most common transformation that took place turned most of these people into hideous members of the opposite sex. Other outfits included grass skirts, spandex, bikinis, evening wear, caveman apparel, and underwear as outerwear. Truly, on September 26 we discovered how much spirit KCSS actually does have.

RIGHT: Now we know why Eric plays football and is not a cheerleader!

BELOW:"Come here sweet thing and give me some lovin'"

LEFT:In an attempt to understand some of this year's fashion statements, our fearless editor went undercover.

Funky Fashions

King City has got to be one of the most diverse schools when it comes to style. From grade nines to OACs, we've all got our own unique sense of fashion. Throughout the year, we've used our clothes to show our crazy school spirit and our crazy personalities. Here are some people we're proud to call our own!

Above: Jeff Stewart: Dazed and Confused

Right: Erik. Need we say more?

Right: We also have quite a strong representation of the casual look at our school.

New Kids on the Block...

Who are those strange faces wandering the halls at KCSS? Why, they're the grade nines, a new, but vital addition to the King pecking order. After all, without the grade nines, the grade 10's have no one to feel cool beside, grade 11's have no one to make fun of, grade 12's have no one to feel taller than, and the OAC's have no one to scare to death. All in all, it's a pretty good system, but only after you get out of grade nine! This year, the grade nines had the pleasure of participating in "King Camp Day," a day when the niners and their older pals in grades 12 and OAC got to frolic in the chilly fall air playing "get-to-know-you" games. The other pleasures of grade 9 at KCSS are: the infamous welcoming dance (complete with pizza), school maps (hey, guys, how long did it take you to figure out that those things AREN'T accurate?!), "Take Our Kids To Work Day", and trying to reach the top shelf in the lockers. Hang in there, guys, only four years to go!!

Left: IT'S A GUY THING!! This bunch of Drama dudes is having a no-girls-allowed time.

"First day of school and I'm already failing..."

For grade nines, the first day of school is as scary as it gets. They're back at the bottom of the pile again. Besides dealing with the usual stuff like the rest of us, they have to work even harder just to keep their heads above water. It has something to do with that feeling of inferiority (being so young and small), yet wanting so desperately to be superior to something (anything). Our grade nines are a pretty good bunch, though. We know they try hard to fit into the King culture, as exemplified by Colleen and her buddies at the Semi. So, maybe grade nine isn't the easiest year, but it's a good test to see if you've got what it takes to survive. Just take it one day at a time.

GRADE TEN

Fabulous!

Being in grade 10 is certainly better than being in grade 9. You have a year of experience under your belt, and you are no longer one of the "little people". You know more people, and it is easier to find your way around. Last year, just the thought of exams would set your heart racing. This year, you are ready to breeze right through: one step closer to being a senior. According to a small but important group of the grade ten class, life at King City Secondary School can be described as "Fabulous!" (...think Oprah Winfrey). It may be a long, tough year but it takes you one step closer to the "real world".

GRADE ELEVEN

Que Sera, Sera

This year was the year when REAL memories were made. New options opened up, like SPARES! We are halfway between what's ended and what's about to begin. New interests and different tastes are emerging. The people we only knew last year are our inseparable friends this year. It was a year to look toward the future, but most of us only took it one day at a time. As the song goes, "The future's not ours to see, Que sera, sera."

GRADE TWELVE

We Arrived In September...

One more year to go, and we're loving it! As seniors we're enjoying the promise of being independent in the not too distant future. Homework overload, after school commitments, working hours, and many attempts at having a social life in the midst of it all, keep us old folks pretty busy! We're learning that so much is expected of us, and how to cope with the pressures. Missing a day seems like missing years of work. The future is creeping up on us, and we're learning fast how to make the best of our "golden" years. We are getting older, and the juniors are beginning to look a lot shorter. We find it a relief that we are one step closer to our future goals, yet still one year away from graduating. It is a scary feeling, having to choose which path we will decide to follow, but having friends makes choosing much easier!

A Fond Farewell to the Graduating class of 1997...from the archon

An Inside Look at...Mrs. Bulson

Mrs. Bulson strongly feels that she is not at all like her own High School principal. According to Mrs. Bulson, he was capable of striking fear into the most well behaved teenager. Despite a busy schedule, Mrs. Bulson wants to be involved with KCSS students. She aims to be the type of principal who students feel they can talk to or see whenever they have the need. She wants her students to know that she is always here to listen, and Mrs. Bulson welcomes KCSS students approaching her for appropriate reasons.

As a teenager, the biggest fashion trend Mrs. Bulson ever followed was wearing those funky penny loafers. The Everly Brothers were also much loved by Mrs. Bulson. We might add that she thought they were very cute, as well as talented singers. The group she passed her time with, as an adolescent, was one that rarely got in trouble and was very involved in school activities. They were very close, and Mrs. Bulson still keeps in touch with some of them today.

On a broader scale, if Mrs. Bulson could eliminate anything from our society today, it would be world hunger and war. These are two problems that she feels no one should have to endure.

To conclude, Mrs. Bulson wants us all to enjoy our high school years and to leave KCSS with fond memories, long lasting friendships and the skills we need to succeed.

Our Bud, Mr. Bewcyk...

Mr. Bewcyk, our friendly vice principal, says that he tries to be more like his high school principal than his vice principal. He remembers his principal as being a kind, friendly man, who was very understanding. On the contrary, his vice principal was a loud, towering, intimidating man. As a teenager, Mr. Bewcyk dressed in the common fashion trends of the time: jean jackets, bell bottoms, and platform shoes. (Is it just me, or do these styles seem to be prevalent here at King in 1996-97?) He also adored the lovely Farah Fawcett for her beautiful eyes and golden hair (we all know Farah and the hair thing).

In High School, Mr. Bewcyk hung around with a close-knit group of teens. The guys were all boy scouts and the girls were all girl guides. They shared many interests and had even more great times together.

When asked if he could change one thing in our society today, he wholeheartedly told us that he wishes to get rid of all of the prejudice, hatred, and racism that plagues the world.

In conclusion, Mr. Bewcyk wants every student at KCSS to know that we are now experiencing the best years of your lives. The relationships that we make here will never be broken, so make the best of your time here at King City.

Left: The Yearbook staff would like to take this opportunity to thank the Office staff for their support and patience over the year. Thanks!

Below: That rosy smile would never show the yearbook stress Ms. Derouin had to endure this year.

So Long, Farewell... Aufwiedersehn Adieu!!

Mrs. Beatty

Mrs. Beatty was a well known secretary throughout the school. Her cheery face could be seen any time you walked into the office. She was always there to assist you with your problems. We can't help but recall her cheery voice on the PA every day for our afternoon announcements. We were very sorry to hear when she retired just before Christmas. Good luck Mrs. Beatty! Have a great time, we'll miss you!!

Mr. Fraser

Where the skies are blue and the grass is green is where you'll find Mr. Fraser and his landscaping company. Who knew Mr. Fraser would want to continue working after retirement? Arriving in 1975 with Mr. Thompson, Mr. Fraser graced the halls of KCSS for 22 years. He will always remember KCSS students as "top notch," and his colleagues as "good teachers of a very high calibre." Thanks, Mr. Fraser, for your dedication to King.

Mr. Gould

Mr. Gould became part of the K.C.S.S. Geography Department in 1970. Mr. Gould will always remember the great kids and classes that he has had the opportunity to teach. During his time off, he will run two companies and hopes to fully retire on Vancouver Island in B.C. (Isn't that the retirement capital of the world?!) Good luck Mr. Gould, you will be remembered by all! We hope you don't encounter as much snow on Vancouver Island as we had this year in Ontario!

Mr. McAlpine

Since 1981, Mr. McAlpine has been an important and enthusiastic part of King. We'll all remember his geography classes and his great interest in pole vaulting. During his retirement, he hopes to travel and write. His fondest memories of King will be the 'teachable moments' he experiences when he really reaches his students. He leaves us with this, "Everyone's potential lays like an untouched pool!" Good luck Mr. McAlpine, you'll never be forgotten!!

Mr. McClure

It is almost unbelievable to us that we are writing a final good bye to Mr. McClure. Since 1964, Mr. McClure has been an integral part of the KCSS community. Upon retirement, he plans to restore a 1967 TR4 car and pursue his hobby of furniture making. Most of all, he plans to enjoy himself by travelling with his wife. He reminds us that when working together, we can generate positive self-esteem and do things we never dreamed possible. This reminds us of those "feel-good" activities that Mr. McClure is best known for. Best wishes, Mr. McClure.

Mrs. Parisani

Mrs. Parisani has been a part of our staff for 22 years. She was in the library and then became head secretary. She is currently working half in the library and half in the attendance office. she will always remember the personalities of the staff and students at King. During her time off she hopes to spend time with her grand kids and shop until she drops. Mrs. Parisani hopes she will be remembered as being 'all things to all people' Good luck Mrs. Parisani have fun and we'll miss you!!

Mr. Serjeantson

Mr. Serjeantson has been a part of KCSS for thirty four years. We've known him as our interim Vice Principal, we've known him as the head of Phys Ed., but he will most be remembered for striking fear into the hearts of the biggest bullies at King as they await that terrifying bing into the classroom. Serj. will fondly remember K.C.S.S for our exceptional teaching staff and our one of a kind students, but we'll remember him for his dedication and commitment. Thanks for every thing Serj, you'll be sorely missed.

We thank these teachers for joining our jungle, and welcome them to our sometimes crazy classrooms.

Welcome to the Jungle!

Mr. Babalis has been teaching for two years now. He previously taught in Peel & York. In his spare time, Mr. Babalis enjoys hanging out with friends, watching football, and travelling. When asked if he could be any animal, Mr. Babalis said a tiger because they are strong, independent, and mysterious like himself.

Miss Linkewich has been a teacher for only two years. She has taught in a total of four schools, including Richmond Hill and Woodbridge. Miss Linkewich likes to work out at the gym, or see a good movie. If she could be any animal, Miss Linkewich would be a fly so that she could listen in on all of the conversations that take place during her class.

New to Math & Science at KCSS is Mr. Manocha. He previously taught at the University of Regina for three years. Mr. Manocha is a family man who enjoys skiing and bowling. Since he loves the water, Mr. Manocha would like to be a large fish. His favourite saying amongst teens today is "Whatever," though we haven't heard him use that expression yet.

That wacky, friendly new face on our staff belongs to Ms. Mottola. We are trying to wrench Ms. Mottola's heart from her beloved Vaughan. Knowing the lovable student body at King, it should only be a matter of time. A cat would be Ms. Mottola's animal of choice because she says that she is very finicky. Ms. Mottola's only wish is to move to 203 to distance herself from the fiery Mr. Ellison.

Numbers are Ms. Reehal's forte. She previously taught Math at a private institute, and we welcome her to the KCSS Math Department. Some of Ms. Reehal's hobbies include listening to the radio, jogging, walking and reading. Ms. Reehal would be a unicorn if she could because of their mystical, magical powers. After contemplation, Ms. Reehal commented that teenagers have changed greatly since she was a teen.

SPECIAL EVENTS

Moving Up, but Always Learning

The annual Junior Awards Assembly is held to honour those students in the junior grades with outstanding accomplishments. Awards are passed out for honour students as well as awards for proficiency in certain subjects. The junior grades are invited to this prestigious ceremony, and it teaches them all that with a little hard work, anything can be accomplished. The stresses of highschool don't go unrewarded, and the junior awards assembly proves this. Congratulations, scholars!

The Junior Awards assembly teaches us all a lesson...

Right: Mr. Johnston looks pretty snazzy in his suit... but wait, what's that peeking out from under his jacket! Oh, right. No outfit is complete without the pocket protector!

Right: Chris Parry looks pretty smug... I guess anyone would be if they'd just cleaned up half the junior awards!

Left: The band graced us all with some inspirational tunes as the graduates entered the gym.

Below, Left: Rob seems to be entertaining the ladies, as there are smiles all around. Way to go, guys! You're done!

Below: Tammy looks pretty content, but who wouldn't be happy to be back at King, even if it was just for one night?

Moving on, but not Forgetting...

Preserving the memories of the best years of your life is all that really counts

It was a night that allowed graduates to put aside that University term paper due on Monday, or that Philosophy exam. Instead, they remembered some of the best years of their lives- the years they spent at KCSS. The occasion? The annual Commencement Ceremony held on November 1st. Last year's graduates were reunited once again to recognize their highschool achievements. Awards were given to students for their excellent achievement both academically and extra-curricularly. Within minutes, friendships were rekindled.

As valedictorian, Roberto reminded us that we shouldn't take for granted our high school years; they could well be the best years of our lives. This evening proved that those who have moved on in life are not yet forgotten here at KCSS, in fact, they have left lasting impressions that will never completely fade away.

Right: We're off to see the wizard... Dorothy, the Lion, Scarecrow and all their friends: (left to right) Aarti, Gill, Amy, Luca and Colleen.

Right: It's not all candy. Colleen Smith and Stephanie Raa of STAND distribute UNICEF (United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund) boxes to fellow trick or treaters.

The "spirited" side of KCSS

October 31st at King City Secondary School is a real get-away from the everyday... Whatever the everyday may be. This year, it seemed like everywhere you looked there was a rather strangely dressed person. Just what were we all masquerading as, you ask? We're not quite sure. There was the colourful crayola collection presented by the teachers, the Star Wars clan, a gang of farmers (were those costumes, or the Schomberg boys?), the Wizard of OZ ladies, your regular angels and devils, witches and, well whatever that blue slinky thing was. For the most part, it was up to you to determine everyone's costume (bellhops?). The Costume contest winners were Chrissie Hamilton, Amy Piccini and Mike Layman as Rainbow Brite, the tinman, and Darth Vader.

*We went all out for a holiday
that's anything
but kids stuff!*

Right: May the force be with you: Darth Vader (Mike), Princess Leia (Melissa), Hans Solo (Rian) and Luke Skywalker (John).

Lest we Forget...

A Day of Remembrance

Lest we forget the soldiers who risked their lives, fighting for peace and harmony... This year, the grade 12 drama class performed a series of short skits depicting the feelings of the soldiers who fought in the war, and watched innocent people die. This assembly showed us that those who died in the war may be gone, but they are never forgotten.

Top to bottom: Anne and Maren look like they could be sisters, Anna and Lindsay have a bond that can't be broken, and Laura and Kara know their special friendship is something to smile about!

Some things we just can't forget...

They could only stay a while, but they left memories to last a lifetime!

Every year, a few lucky students have the opportunity of a lifetime: to go on an exchange to a country of their choice. At first, it seems like a scary idea: new people, new school, new customs... but soon the students get used to the idea, and manage to have a little fun

This year, Maren, Laura and Anna from Germany had the pleasure of experiencing life at King, staying with Anne- Marie, Kara and Lindsay. Seeing the Toronto sights, bonding with their partners, and partying with all the kids from King must have made each girl's stay a busy one!

At the end of November, their 3-month stay was up and they headed back home. Our three King ladies make their trek to Germany in the spring, and we hope that life in Germany is just as fun-filled and rewarding as it is here!

CHRISTMAS CRAZINESS

This year's Christmas assembly was picture perfect...just like on T.V. From Bayside to Baywatch, the OAC's covered it all, but not without good intentions. Each skit helped us to realize the value of the holidays (not to mention the value of a good laugh). From the first run on to the beach to the perfection of Kramer's classic entrance, the audience remained intrigued. The effort put forth by the students was greatly appreciated, however we can't give them all the credit. As the programming continued, we saw those ever popular Leon's commercials in an entirely new light (I'm sure the Ho Ho Hoedown was greatly appreciated by all those raised in Schomberg). We also saw a completely new side to Sally Struthers, and the teachers certainly showed us the true meaning of the Macarena! Thanks again to Yah, Pork's Alright for giving a great performance. By the end of the assembly, we all left our seats more than satisfied, and eager to start the Christmas Holidays.

Above: What King City is all about... Who knew hockey players could, "HO HO HO" so well!

Left: Amy's not too shy to portray a Baywatch girl... in fact, she's busting with joy as she receives a Christmas gift.

Right: Laurie and Allison look pretty stylin' - cheerful, too! Guess it really does take two to make a thing go right!

Above: All tired out after a long, hot night of the dance floor.

Right: The lovely lady who made it all happen - student council pres Leanne Thurston. A million thanks for a wonderful evening!

Right: Women go crazy for a sharp dressed man. These two guys had the women swarming.

Left: No girls allowed! It's guys like these that prove that the Semi isn't just something girls drag their boyfriends to!

Dance, Dance, Dance...

... All Night Long!

Everyone knows that King kids love a party, and what could be better than getting all dressed up, with a place to go? Held on November 28th, at the Atrium in Aurora, the Semi was a glamorous night for everyone in attendance. The food could have been better, but the music and dancing couldn't have been. Even some of our favourite teachers felt the urge to get up and cut a rug with the best of the dancers. Memories of the evening could just not be complete without: Everyone falling down the stairs to the bathrooms, Bobby (nice hair) and John (what happened to your shirt?) dominating the dance floor, nearly dying of heart attacks after dancing to "Home For A Rest", the dancing queens, Mr. McClure dancing for us during YMCA, bathroom trains, and the tiny dance floor that turned everyone into a dirty dancer! The true bonus of the evening! No Macarena!

Above: If sitting down to study is the first step, it looks like this guy's got it right!

WORKING HARD OR HARDLY WORKING?

You're ready to laugh, you're ready to cry... term one is finally out of the way! You're halfway through, and only one thing stands in between you and a PA day... your exams! Whether you've been studying for weeks (hey, it's possible!) or you're about to start cramming, you get that familiar knot in your stomach as you mutter the words over and over... I'm going to FAIL! Prayers for a snow day or chicken pox are unanswered, and you arrive at school with your head spinning with facts. A few extra minutes in the caf do you no good. That place is a madhouse! The Library is no help either, it's so quiet, you can hear your brain working. When you finally arrive at your exam confident in the knowledge that you've studied like mad and still won't survive, the papers are passed out. Now hope is all you have...

Exams make or break the term... so don't bother relaxing!

Left: Although the cat looks empty, many people were nervous about exams. Maybe more people should have been studying!

Below: This poor girl looks pretty stressed out! We hope everything went well for you!

Left: Well here's a rare sight! Josh and Curt studying hard! We think this shot may have been set up, but we're not sure...

Left: Here's one of our Library favourites. Dave works really hard all year, so it's no wonder he can be found studying hard in the Library during Exams. We're sure that all your hard work will pay off, so keep it up!

All in the Family...

You finally nabbed your sister's favourite sweater without her knowing, and are totally proud to wear it to school. That is, until you hear a loud screech from down the hall. You've forgotten something kind of important... your sister goes to your school. That's right. Every time you're called to attendance, spotted in study hall or chatting it up with a member of the opposite sex, the news is broadcast at home. What's worse? When your parent is teaching in the same school where you're a student! The good news is, there is always someone to bring your homework to you when your sick, and someone that might give you some money (if you beg). What would King be without some of our favorite families? We dare not think!

Right: "Hey, nice 'dos!" Vanessa and Kylie now know not to go to their science teachers for hair styling advice.

The Door's Always Open at KCSS

On Thursday, February 13th KCSS held its annual Open House and Grade 8 information night. Parents and students filled the halls and enjoyed the sights and sounds the students and staff had to offer. The front foyer served as a marketplace for students to sell yummy chocolate almonds and creamy caramels for the school fundraiser. The halls provided a showcase for the various classes and talents our school has to offer. A group of senior students played exotic drums in the front foyer. Science performed a number of demonstrations ranging from dissection to the wonders of electricity. The Moderns department hosted a Cafe selling hot chocolate and cookies. The evening was a great success!

Athletics Rule KCSS

One of the many reasons students love King so much is because of its amazing programs, one of the best being the Elite Athlete program. This program offers assistance to serious athletes by giving them time to do their work during school, if they're out at practice all night. We couldn't include everyone's pictures, but here's a look at some of our best at their best!!

It wasn't a big surprise when the student's council was introduced to the student body - these people have always been natural leaders at our school. The executives are six highly energetic and extremely school spirited young ladies. Together with the class reps, the council has produced theme days, dances, our Semi Formal and Prom. The school year would have been extremely dull without them! Thanks for a great year!

What is a school year without a STAND club? No UNICEF fund raiser to give more than $1000 dollars to the needy. No holiday luncheon to celebrate the good times with those whom we are close to. No welcoming banquet to welcome the new students to the school and make them feel at home here at KCSS. The STAND club is a valuable asset to King and we wish them the very best in their future endeavors.

At KCSS we have an amazing group of students who dedicate much of their spare time to worthy causes, such as Here's the story, of a bunch of ladies (and Bob), who chose to work their hardest on a book. They started in September, making layouts, oh how much patience that took.

Here's the story, of much frustration, but also of good times, that would last... because when you work together on a yearbook, the year goes by so fast.

So Ms. D, Ms. L and Erin took this staff, and they knew that it was much more than a hunch... they must all join, and make a yearbook, and that's the way they all became THE YEARBOOK BUNCH!!

There is only one thing to say at this point: cross your fingers and hope for the best. Seriously, the yearbook this year has been a piece of cake. Not only has it been (relatively) stress-free, but it has been a lot of fun, mainly (only) because of the people I've been working with. Thanks, Erin, for all of your dedication--you singlehandedly made my year. ND

Thanks to the 'bunch' that went out of their way to help out, Ms. Linkewich for coming out even when she didn't have to, and especially to Ms. Derouin. If it wasn't for her hard work and dedication, this book never would have happened. Thanks,

Erin... xo

P.S. Anything you especially liked about the book, tell me. Anything you especially didn't like, tell Lyndsay.

Right: "This year's team proved once again King City is a force to be reckoned with in the single track. Andrew Pinfold finished 2nd overall, and Chris Dewar finished 5th, but placed 3rd in Ontario. Anne Marie Hansen finished an incredible 17th in Ontario." -A. Pinfold

Below: Need we say more about our fabulous girls?

Right: "This year's cross country team had an excellent showing, finishing 2nd in the Junior boys race at the York Regionals and having 6 members qualify for OFSSA. Most dedicated athlete award went to Kevin Foster for helping coach the team and his second place finish in the York Regionals." -Mrs. Cholyk

The girls' field hockey team captured the York Region Championship and advanced to OFSSA

Play from within...rise to the top

Victory (the York Region Championship) was sweet for the field hockey team after a long season of intense drills and late practices. The team truly earned the success they achieved.

-Coach Ramer

The whole weekend at OFSAA was (cold and) amazing!

FEEL THE FORCE

Right: WATERBABIES

Kristin, Stephanie and Caroline take a breather at the side of the pool.

Below: Looks like the ball's getting away from Sherry Thurston... did she make the team?

The swim team was lead by a number of strong individuals including Shannon Hainer, Stef Ceci, and Anthony Costa, reports Laura Emmett.

Above: No matter what, these girls always made the best of the situation and came out winners in our eyes.

A comment about the Midget Girls team: This year's Midget girls showed the potential to be an excellent team and an honest drive to learn the game. Their enthusiasm for the game beckons will for girls basketball at King. -Mr. Harrison Editors Note: The yearbook would like to thank Mr. Harrison for his cooperation in conveying this information to us, and we apologize that we do not have any midget candids.

Look out for the Return of the KCSS Lions!

The midget team was 2nd in the southwest division, with an 8-2 record. Overall their record was 16-12. They lost in the quarter finals to Dennison.

Above: These junior boys show that good moves and co-ordination have nothing to do with basketball... it's all in their good looks.

Left: Vince Lamberti made us promise to put this in here, so here it is. Vince at his best.

With basketball's rise in popularity, starting with the Raptors, the KCSS teams have gotten more and more popular! Their quick moves keep us all on the edge of our seats...

These Guys Make It Look Easy!

Left:

Below:

Billy Proscia doesn't look like he's practising too hard... is this what it takes to be a champ?

Above:

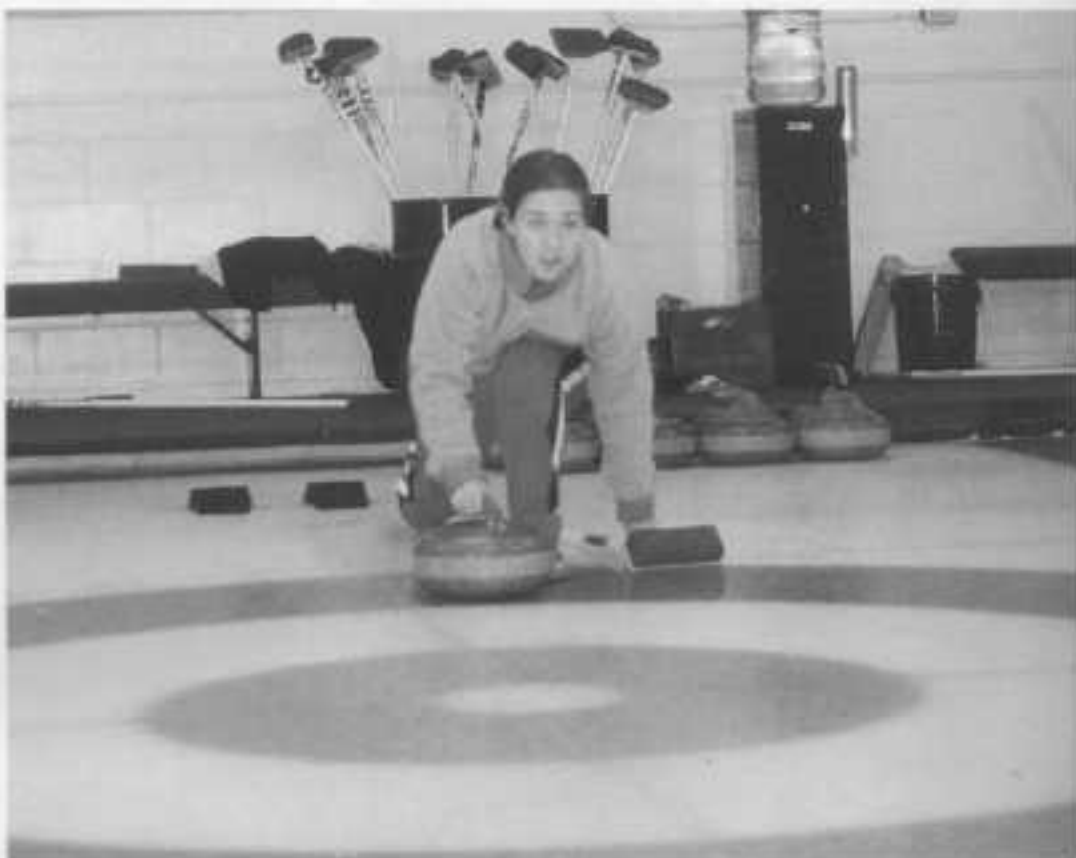

Cam Chalk, AKA Mr. Basketball, looks cool and relaxed.

It's a delicate combination of style, technique and talent that brings these teams to the top!

Struttin' Our Stuff

Right: On my own...Full concentration and a clear look ahead helps that baby move to the right speed.

Below: Kim cracks another birdie over the net.

Right: Andrew says: "I've always loved the art of Badminton, I'm up to 2ft on my jumps!" Far Right: Jenny's trying out a new trick for the team, catching the birdie in her mouth!

Left: "Here's Elizabeth Tilley and Sherry Thurston, specializing on the next curl. Without the guidance of Mark and the enthusiasm of the rest of the team, the season would not have been so memorable and enjoyable."
-B. Fagogenis.

Below: Lee-Anne sends it off with a final push as Elizabeth works that broom.

Above: So guy, how long have you been waiting for that birdie?

Left: Sam, this is a new look for you. (We like the old one better.)

Right: Look at them scramble for the puck! Way to go #18! You make us proud.

Below: Who can forget the refs?

Right: Check out the hustle on these lions! OK... we are running low on hockey candids... we confess... SORRY! (Not to mention the creative captionwriter's block from which we're currently suffering).

Time and time again, King has been referred to as a 'Hockey School'. Sometimes, we wonder why. Then we realize... It's because we're so darned good!

YOU'RE FROM CANADA... DO YOU PLAY HOCKEY?

Left: You do the HOKEY POKEY and you turn yourself around... That's what it's all about!!!!

Left, Middle: We always know where to find these good looking hockey heroes for a candid shot.

Below: There go our girls off to a game! We have to say, girls, you make us proud! In particular, Kerri Rumble and Maris Gianotti were noted for their leadership by an anonymous team member.

Our girls are so good, they won the silver medal at the Canadian Tire championship tournament: UONS ROAR! The junior boys were headed to the York Region semi-finals.

Midgets, Junior, and Senior Girls Volleyball Teams

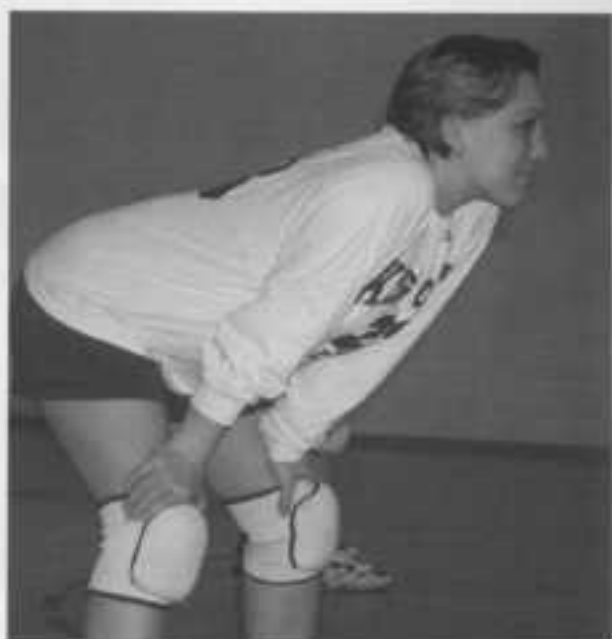

Tearing up the Courts at KCSS

Right: Maureen and Veronica tore up the courts so badly during an exhausting practice that they could barely smile for the camera. Either that or they really don't like to have their photos taken.

Below: Let your fingers do the walking, or in this case, the setting.

Right: Look out! It's a bird, it's a plane... wait, it's a volleyball!!!
Quick, bump it!

Top: Thanks to the efforts of all the girls, including Crystal, the Midgets had a really good season.

Above: Manager Duo. They must be the brawn because they certainly aren't the brains behind the Junior Girls Volleyball Team! At press time, the Juniors were going to the York Region championships. We know they'll perform their best!

Right: Hey Captain! Heather is in deep concentration as the volleyball comes tumbling towards her. We could all stand to learn a good bump now and then. The Seniors had a great season this year, and were headed to York Region Championships as well.

Laughing in the face of exhaustion is always the safest bet.

Above:

Shannon looks like she's having a great time, and she doesn't have an arrow!

Right:

Chrissie and Anne look exhausted! The funny thing is, they haven't even started running yet!!!!

The fastball & track teams are tearing up the turf, but making no less of an impression of their own is the Archery team.

Life in the Fastlane...

Left:

These guys have the eye of the tiger and the aim of Robin Hood. Wouldn't want to meet them in a dark alley! (Well, if they had their bows and arrows with them!)

Below:

Dan Pontiso looks pretty smug... I guess he just got a bullseye!

Above:

Nobody knew the track team lets you lie down... if that's what it's all about maybe more people should join.

Some things are very strange!!

A day at KCSS is never "just another day." There is always something a little out of the ordinary going on...from fetal pigs in the bio rooms to paper creatures and straw towers in leadership, teachers manage to keep us kids on our toes. Just wandering the halls you seem to embark on adventure after adventure. Some may complain that school is boring, obviously they haven't looked around King to see exactly what goes on. Here's an inside glance, a few people caught in the act, of just what makes us so unique!

*Never a dull

here! Just

Strange Happenings... (Left page): Lisa on Valentines day (nice skirt), Kelly on PJ day, boys and gingerbread, and the cupids from STAND. This page, clockwise from left: Jen on Valentines day, paper creatures from leadership class, the PJ day crew, Catherine and Anne have fun with icing, Gill and Colleen singing their hearts out, more boys and gingerbread, Leah, Sarah and Shannon and their message of love, and Aubrie and Sarah and their gingerbread houses!

You've probably heard about the King City Youth Council around the town, but have never been too sure of who they really are and what they really do. In short, they are 4 kids from King City SS and 3 from Country Day School who are working hard to make King a better place for youth. Due to little funding and non-existent facilities, there has not been much done for youth in the past. However, the KCYC is working to change that. With the help of students and adults throughout the community, we are sure that we can change this. We have been helping out at community events in hopes of raising money and positive recognition toward the youth. Other students are encouraged to do the same. For more information, contact Deanna Smith and the township offices, or any member of the council.

My time here at King has come and gone. From Camp Tamarack to the senior Prom, I have many wonderful friends and happy memories that I will cherish for a lifetime. Some of my memories are: Camp Tamarack, Music Camp, Semi formal, Center Island, 18th B-day, Skating at City Hall, Glamour Shots, Angel Tree, Band (especially the early morning ones at 7:15.) Biology 11G and A yearbook with Christine P. E-mail Buds, Chris Dan and Alex B. I have traveled near and far. To Montreal, N.B. to Augusta '94, England '95, calf '96 and Walt Disney World '97. Hey Vicky, getting lost on the 401, bay cards and WESTERN5!! Don't forget hair colours, 6' subs, Jessica's stories, lunch times, spars, Nicky getting her G-2, rollerblading, Star Wars for the first time. Applying to Wonderland Tracie, My flute Bud! and lets not forget BOYS! Thanks for the help Mr. Smith. Thanks for the memories Vicky, Nicky, Chan Phos, Margo, Noleen, Christine, and Mrs D. Thanks for the ride ladies. See ya' later beauty.

A word about deadlines...

Every year the yearbook is due at the end of February, causing us to miss all the teams formed after this point. Some teams will approach us with write ups and photos for this year's book, but others never catch us before the deadline. We're truly sorry to all the teams that miss us; you may not be in here, but you're never forgotten!

Girls Soccer '95/'96

Not in the history of KCSS sports has a team done so well. Rescued from obscurity by Jimmy J, the team did him proud. The scorers were: Christina (Beats) Salamone (2), Anne Marie Hansen (1) and Stephane Cici (1). Janice Chadwick was our stellar goalie. The team was: Nancy Thomas, Heather Brown, Jen Coleman, Elizabeth Tilley, Mary-Jane Millar, Anne Marie Hansen, Madeline Vehosvek, Cheryl Smits, Serena Cassano, Bryony Mansbrige (aka Flipper), Tina, Steph Cici, Steph Stirpe, Christina Salamone, Janice Chadwick, Danny Aquino (Manager), Dr. J (aka Jimmy J aka Mr. Johnston) (Coach). Missing: PICTURE.

This year's OAC DRAMA class gets the prestigious five star award, given only to the class Larry describes as "The Best OAC class...ever!" Our thanks to Larry for being the most patient and understanding drama teacher in the world. Of course, we could never have gotten where we are without Mr. Wells, to her we have only one thing to say: "I liked it, it was good." Thanks to them for all the great years of class and all of their work on the plays. Regards, also, to Gill Orr who missed the photos. Below, the two Comedia de l'arte casts, Left is "Too many weddings", Right is "The man in the closet". Thanks for a great year...

Like a butterfly you flew into my life
Never standing still long enough for me to look closely at you,
Fluttering about, your wings flirting
Like hundreds of kisses on my cheek
Least expecting it, you finally came to a stop atop my nose,
And again I could not see you clearly
Just beginning to focus...
but you were gone.
