School is enriched by School is enriched by the way its students show their school spirit. This section demonstrates the enthusiasm of our students.

Student Life

student life: person engaged in study at a school, who is active in events and daily happenings.

IDENTICALLY DIFFERENT:

An attempt to find look-a-likes at K.C.S.S.

Walking down the halls of K.C.S.S. we often find ourselves questioning who certain people remind us of. Sub-consciously we know who they are but it is a struggle to get the name off the tip of our tongues. So in a search to find celebrity look-a-likes we searched the school far and wide and also asked the public two key questions. One- Who would you like to look like? Two-Who do people say you look like? As a result we came up with some striking resemblances and awesome clones. Enjoy the eye cardy, Latt: Darryl Hely steps for a quick snapshat with a photo on the K.C.S.S. wall of tame. The athlete pictured here is Doug Clarke is that Danyl's long lost relative? No one knows but we know that Carryl and Doug share quite few things in common.

THE KEN AND BARBIE OF K.C.S.S.

Above: Faye Ly often is mistaken for Lucy Liu of "Charlies Angels". "I get Lucy Liu a lot, but I don't see itt"- Faye Ly

Above. Not only do Mya Imtiaz and the R&B singer Mya share a similar look. They also share a unique and very beautiful name.

Above Dane Rossi has a shocking resemblance to the animated Simpson's character "Sideshow Bob". We think it's due to the crazy curry hair.

Above Where in the world is Waldo? I think we finally found him! Oh wait, main not Waldo thank Mr. Yorke! But maybe Waldo is his long lost brother!

All Embracing...

The KCSS couples pictured below will surely tell you that when in a relationship you need three key elements; trust, compassion and communication. Without them you are sore to have problems. Trust is important, otherwise paranoia and jealousy will set in. Compassion is another important factor. It allows you to empathsize with someone else's situation and reminds you to treat your boy/girlfriend the way you want to be treated. Communication is probably the most important element in any relationship. Without it, you don't have anything going for either one of you.

Of couse this all wraps up into one big package called love. The true meaning of this word alludes many of us. Webster's Dictionary defines it as "a passionate affection for someone", but once you join the ranks of those in love - and you will - you'll no doubt create your own definition based on all the experiences and favourite moments you share as a couple. For some it is a kiss, or a stolen glance. For others it is favourite memories like the ones shared below. All in all, be happy. In the future when you are looking back at this you will remember all the fun you had together:

... High School Sweethearts

Kim Sartor and Peter Martin can be found in the hallways, whether it's studying or cuddling, these two are always together. Peter's favounts first was "The day I walked into Physics class."

Mark Bernardi and Elana Martins are as excited to see the camera as they are to see each other. They took a moment to flash their pearly whites.

Young Love: At Semi-Formal Stephanie Fisher and Alex McLeish smile patiently while waiting for their friends to come to their table. Stephanie's favourite moment was "When I came back from snowboarding with chapped kips... and he came over the next day armed with chapstick."

Going my way? Brandon Wren is caught in the halls carrying Whitney Stranks on his back, like a prince rescuing his damsel in distress. Brandon and Whitney's best times together. "Summertime camping and lavish, expensive dinners at 'East Side Mario's' for two."

Would you like a hug? Torie Boyton and Jeremy Noakes won the Yearbook's couples contest. Torie's favourite memory is "Leaving gym three after Phys. Ed., Jeremy started humming Under The Boardwalk' and I started to sing along. It became dur sono!"

Looks like Fall: Erica Swenson and Jay Mohamed cuddle up for the camera. Our first date was on Halloween, and we went to the movie 'Bate'. I think he picked if because it was supposed to be scary, but it ended up being so had that we ended up laughing."

cuter Danielle Bytik and Andre Pape-Duntop stop for a quick pose before reading off to work. Danielle's fevourie first was their first date. 'I rold him to be creative and the supposed me by taking me to a Drive-in movie. It was really and.'

Shea Montgomery and Cory Murrell get stopped in the hallway to be photographed. "Fled Skillles are my favourite, so one day he picked out all the sol ones and put them in a little bag and brought them to me."

In the darkest of nights, with a whispering of lights, I turn, and look into the shadows. What I ace excites me. I turn and run, because I am not afraid anymere. I am filled with joy because what I ace is not an illusion. I slow down in time to catch a flash, a glimpse of what was to come. I come to a stop just before I start to spin. Around and around until I plea no more! I laugh out loud, because of what I ace. It's lighter now and I can see clearly what's in front of me. What I ace is peace and with that comes the love I know can last forever. What I ace is you, and that's what fills me with joy and excitement, knowing that you are here with me, and that's all that matters.

Hungry Hangouts

All day long, so many students just can't wait to hear that lunch bell go. There's something about the sound of that bell that brings so much happiness to one's day.

Because we live in this huge Metropolis we call King City, there's always so many places to go spend our lunch time. Yeah right, maybe some day. Actually as long as you have a ride, the possibilities of finding good places to eat are endless. Just five minutes from the school and you're basically in fast food heaven! However, some people prefer the good old fashioned stay at school lunch style. Whether they buy food from the caf, bring their own lunch, or just go to library to study. Other people chose King City's famous Pizza Pizza. No matter how many times you eat there during the week, you just can't seem to get sick of it. Maybe its just the convenience of taking a two minute walk down the road. But K.C.S.S sure loves their pizza!

One thing that always seems to cause some commotion is the short lunch. We'd like to call it our lunch hour, but unfortunately it's not even that. Lunch time is as much of an important part of the day as any time. Why should it be shorter than any class time? But none-the-less, it's a time that cannot be taken for granted. It's a time to sit back and relax, forget about the stress of your classes and enjoy the company of friends.

Above: Cam Norman waits patiently by the vending machines to see if someone will be nice enough to lend him some money. He claims, "Hey with a face like this, who wouldn't want to lend me a dollar??" Okay Cam, keep trying.

Above: After a quick drive-thru to Micky D's. Paul Storto, Chris Furlong and Ricky Bogatek come back and chill in the parking lot during their lunch because everyone knows these guys are just too cool to be seen sitting around in a fast food restaurant.

Right: Hardy Tran looks pretty confident in his hand of cards, although Laura De Sanctis knows he's bluffing as she peeks over his back. Hardy and his friends can often be found at lunch with a hand full of cards and he likes to think of himself as a big time player. Let's hope he never makes it to Wigas.

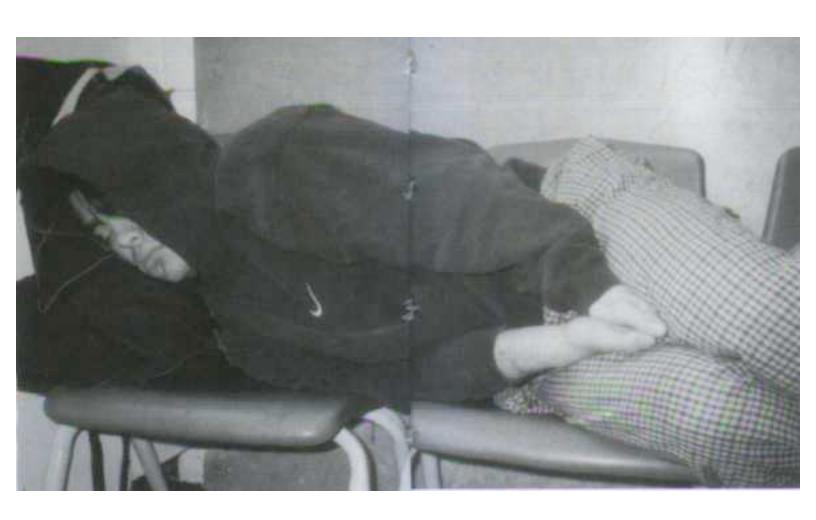

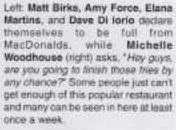

Above: It's fine-dining at Harvey's for these grade 11 students, Matt Elliott, Ryan Watts, Matt Watts, Dave McGeschy, Justin Burton, Nathan Lloyd, Scott Diplock, and Tony Facololo can usually be found out at funch in groups this size. It seems they are pretending to put on some sent of business meeting here but nobody really knows what for exactly.

Right: This is an ideal way for Andrew Accenzi to spend his lunch time. He makes the best of what he has as he puts together a rather comfortable looking bed out of chairs and a bag to rest his head on.

Left:These two study buddles, Zac Hobson and Ashiko Westguard, can often be found in the library during their funch period finishing up some incomplete homework.

Right: Sophie Garber and Alex Krivov are just hangin' in the cal atter eating some of our famous cal fries.

Above: These seven hungry guys don't waste any time eating their delicious sendwiches at Deli Diner. Paul Ingham. Joey Nunnari, Matt Weatherall, Mike Weatherall, Ryan James, Austin Dies and Tom Makarenko are regular visitors to this restaurant. Wherever these grade 12's eat, they usually have to call ahead to make sure the restaurant has enough food.

Left: Lewis Farrell debates whether or not he'd like to get another slice of pizza from K.C.S.S's favourite pizza place. He says, "One slice is never enough." BELOW:Shas Montgomery (gr.12) gets a lift from her twin brothers. Lane (left) and Mitch (right), both in grade nine. When asked if the three of them were similar in personalities Shea responds, "Sometimes we are, but my brothers are avact opposites mostly."

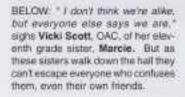

BELOW LEFT: "Our personalities are actually complete oppoate," says Danielle Billyk, DAC, of her sister Michelle (gr. 12). "Ever since we were younger it was the black and white, but as we get older I find we are becoming more alike."

RIGHT: These two may seem like they get along in front of the camera, but at home...don't even go there!' laughs Elise Cappuccitti. 'She's not really taler than me, is she?' askes Megan Amedeo (gr.12) of her younger sister Melissa (gr. 10).

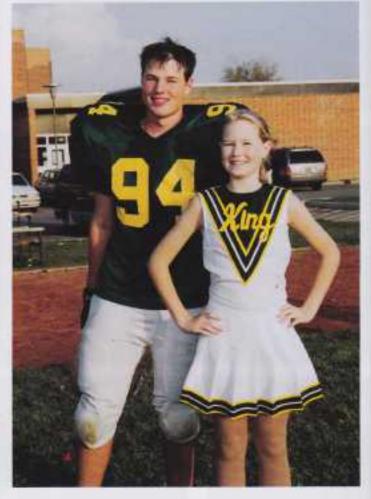

ABOVE: Can you tell who's who? Twin brothers Jeremy (left) and Joshua King (right) aren't identical twins but there are still some similarities between them. "We don't alwaye get along," says Jeremy.

ABOVE: Natalee Birks, grade 10, is one of King City's cheerleaders. The great part of her being on the squad is that she gets to cheer on her older brother, grade twelve student Matt Birks as he gross his all on the football field. "We are more different than we are alike," Matt insists. "Whatever I like she is the complete opposite and we stay as far away from each other as poseible." Well, then that makes this picture one of a kind!

ABOVE: Locking at the Varga sisters, Rebecca (gr.12) and Califfin (gr.9), you'd think they were twins. But, despite their different personalities, the two hang out together, including this year's Semi-Format. "It was a great right, we were the same dress," laughed Rebecca.

ABOVE LEFT: The Whitham sisters can often be found together in the hallways. "My sister and I get along most of the time," says Lindsay (gr. 12) of her youger sister, Pamela (gr. 11). "We hang out outside of school; even though we hang out with different crowds."

Love You Lots. But Don't Borrow My Stuff!

The KCSS Sibling Page

Have you noticed how there may be more than one person who looks like one of your friends? King City is full of siblings, some who look identical and some who look nothing alike. This page is designated for some of our schools many brothers and sisters. Many of them are best friends, having always been there for each other, while some may not necessarily get along as well but can still be found together. There have been cases where someone has confused their best friend with that friend's brother or sister. Other times it may be a shock to discover that your friend has a sibling because they may look and act

Some are on the same sports teams, others may have the same group of friends, "My sister and I have similar personulities," says grade twelve student Lindsay Whitham of her and her sister, Pamela.

"Outside of school we do go out together, sometimes, but normally we do our own thing with our own friends," Danielle Bilyk explains about her and her sister, Michelle,

We stay as far away from each other as possible, "laughs Matt Birks of he and his little sister, Natalce.

ABOVE: When asked if she hangs out with her sister, Val Fisher (gr.12) says "Yes, we go out shopping and out for dinner tagether." But when asked if they were similar in personality... "No way," Val says.

RIGHT: "It's good to have a sibling older than you to show you around," says grade nine student Sophie Garber. She's lucky to have her older sister, Claire, by her side.

Grade 9 Newcomers

Coming into high school means lots of changes for the grade nines. For some this means having a locker, which took some getting used to for Alicia Napp who said, "I left a can of Diet Coke in my locker and it huned into green fungus after three months." More changes include getting up early. a larger school, split lunches and more extra curricular activities. The highlight of being a grade nine at King is ROC King, also known as King Camp. This is a three day adventure for the grade nines to make friends and learn teamwork skills which will help them to adjust to high school. For, Eric Logue his favourite part of ROC King was, "drinking the homemade lemonade." Along with all the changes, comes fear for these brave grade nines. Will there be initiation? Will I get stuffed in a locker? Despite these fears, it looks like they all made it through safely.

Grade 10 No longer newbies!

Tests, tests, tests! You begin to get all nervous and stressed over a major test. You dream about getting out of it. Well, the dream did come true for some grade 10 students when the Literacy Test was cancelled in October. The Literacy Test was mandatory for all grade 10 students to write and the day of the big test. it was found stolen and posted on the Internet. Grade 10, Meghan Mintz spoke about this incident and said, "It was awesome that the Literacy Test was found on the Internet, but only if it was found sooner."

Fraser Rowe, also a grade 10 student replied, "I was shocked when I had heard about the text and thought it was a joke but when I had found out it was true it sounded like something that would only happen in a movie." Though some students found this an advantage many were upset over this occurrence and felt as though they had lost the chance of being tested for their education.

....The best way to predict your future is to create it...

As we approach the end of another school year, we take one step further into the future. Some of us will be leaving with the memories of K.C.S.S. etched in our souls and the rest of us will remain in hopes of furthering our knowledge. The one thing that we can all share, is the memories that have been made here at King City Secondaty.

The future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams...

-Eleanon Roosevelt

Students who are graduating had to overcome the ups and downs of school life. We would like to congratulate them on their fine efforts and success!

We Will Always Remember...

Amanda Poulter (1984 - 2002)

On Saturday February 16, 2002, one of our fellow students, Amunda Coulter was involved in a car accident on Keele Street just south of King Road. Sadly, Amunda lost her life due to injuries she tion of Amanda's life here at KCSS and in our surrounding communities.

Amanda was a grade 12 student and was planning to graduate at the end of the school year. She had a passion for equestrian riding. You could often find Amanda with one of her three horses Ajay, Future and Diva. This love for horses inspired her towards her future plan to complete high school and pursue a career as an equestrian trainer and coach by opening her own training stable. In the school community, Amanda was, at one time a part of the school hand. Recently, she could be found hanging out with her friends Paige Gray, Meg Diehl, Christine Mundy, Nick Armstrong, Peter Morrissey, and her boyfriend Paul Valiere. Amanda will be greatly missed by friends and family who loved her.

sustained in the accident. That week, KCSS mourned the loss of a fellow student and there was a memorial announcement that was played at the end of the week. This page is dedicated to the celebraThat week the flag outside KCSS is lowered to half staff to bonour Amar "I can't believe something like this to perced" comments Taylor Jones.

The following poem was written by Amanda for her horse Destiny when she passed away last year. The poem was also read during the memorial at KCSS

Miss Me But Let Me Go

When I come to the end of the road,
And the sun has set for me...

I want no rites in a gloom filled room.
Why cry for a soul set free?
Miss me a little but not too long,
And not with your head bowed low.

Remember the love that we once shared.

Miss me but let me go.

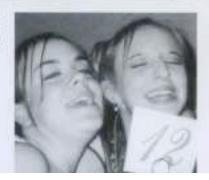

For this journey we all must take.

But I'll not be alone.

It's all a part of the master's plan;
A step on the road to home.
When you are lonely and sick of heart,
Go to the friends we know.
And bury the sorrows by doing good deeds.

-Amanda Coulter

At this year's semi-formal, Amenda could be found laughing and singing along with the great tunes, with her friends.

Message from The Principal, Mr. J. McGugan

My first year at King City Secondary School has come to an end. As your new principal, I am proud of the accomplishments of our students, teachers and staff. We have grown as a school - in spirit, in maturity, in expectations. Our commitment as a team to our school and our community has allowed us to have many successful events and activities. Who can forget the Junior Boys' Football team, or ROC KING Camp or the OAC Holiday Assembly! I am always amazed at how much we can achieve. Each year, I welcome new students. I try to explain what a wonderful experience being part of King City SS can be. No one, however, can demonstrate that better than you, the students. A school is more than bricks and chalkboards. What defines a school is the spirit, diversity and integrity of the students, teachers and staff. We represent not only our school, but also our communities, in a positive and creative way. To those students who leave to face new challenges and realize new dreams, I wish you well. I hope that you leave more enriched from your days here at King. To those who remain, cherish the time that you spend here on your quest to defining who you are and what you aspire to become.

Focusing On The Future

The Business, Co-op and Computer Departments

In grade 9 they took a business course. They learned to manage accounts, play the stock markets, and take long series of notes. All in preparation for the day when they themselves would be masters of the business world. In grade 10 they fought with computers, starting small with simple typing. In time, they moved upward onto Turing, and finally, JAVA. A generation of computergame players now have the skills to design their own programs. Now to and behold they have become...dun dun dun....Co-op students! Those students who seem to have disappeared off the face of the planet for months on end and then finally come back changed forever - breathing stories of the mysterious "work world".

Top three most interesting placements:
1)Respiratory therapy
2)Wardrobe design at Dalhousie
3)Veterinarian clinical work.

Yes that place that someday we must all join-doing whatmost of us don't know exactly, but something that will fulfill us for the rest of our lives. Co-op students have a unique opportunity to learn and grow. They get a placement in the job field they wish to enter. Dayafter-day for a whole semester they journey to this "work place" learning more than their eager minds can contain. This experience will give them the reassurance and motivation that they need to carry out the secondary education for their "dream job".

-From chef, to parent, to worldwide fashion designer, King City's Family Studies department is where it all starts.-

King City's Perfect Husbands

King City, already known for its handsome, intelligent, greatly desired men, has created a new line of men; a type of man who can cook. clean, sew, and knows what end to place a diaper on a baby. Ladies and gentlemen. meet King City's perfect husbands. Betty Crocker beware, the men found in King City's food prep class have mastered the recipe for cookies. Not only do they know the difference between salt and sugar, they can cook chocolate chip cookies without burning them! Not only do they cook, they clean! These guys do the dishes after they creare them!

Cooking, cleaning, what else could we ask for? Want a guy who will be a good father in the future? Well, yet again, King City > has performed another miracle. "Baby-Think-It-Over' helps prepare students for their future role as parents by crying when it needs a little TLC. You can't stuff this project in your locker and forget about it for a period! Our King City perfect husbands do it all. Twenty years from now when we look back into our yearbooks, will it in fact be these men who are the "perfect husbands"? We'll have to wait to see, but it sure doesn't hurt to know a guy who can satisfy your sweet tooth!

The lamps Are lit

By: Anonymous

The lamps are lit, The trees are bare, Clouds move swiftly, Way out there.

Standing beneath A star-filled sky, With looks of longing In their eye.

Standing, Waiting, Watching there, In anticipation Can't help but stare.

The people wait, Excitement grows, One fall night, As calm wind blows.

The Lamps Are Lit

This poem was written by an anonymous grade 11 English student. Other writing expectations in the new grade 11 curriculum include essays, reviews and summaries. Homes are warm, Fires lit bright, On this starry, Warm, fall night.

Peaceful, happy. Calm are they. No-one rushing To get their way.

No-one angry, No-one mad, No-one hurting, No-one sad.

Simply standing Waiting there, The lamps are lit, the trees are bare.

GEOGRAPHY AND HISTORY!

The Effects of September 11th

On September 11th the crashing of four American planes caused thousands of deaths and hundreds of injuries. The history and geography departments were equally affected through the cancellations of class trips, class time used to discuss the attacks, and the very real possibility of studying the events in the future as part of the curriculum. Classes were immediately filled with discussion about the events and the worries of students. A big class discussion was held in the OAC World Issues course. We feel our safety and se curity has been deminished and it's going to take a long time to get it back." Debra Picciolo stated. Most classes spent numerous amounts of time talking about this matter. "We covered it extensively when it first happened, and again now due to the rumours around Hallowe'en putting the States on high alert," said Ms. Pace. When asked how she thought it would affect the curriculum she said, "H'Il definitely be picked up in units as part of future courses."

Trips to Egypt, Washington, and Virginia have all been cancelled due to the School Board's policy concerning International flight... there will be none! Mrs. Mottola has been trying to have a trip to Egypt for the past few years as part of the Ancient Civilizations course, "I've been working on it for the past 3 years and every year something comes up. It takes away from student morale and character education when the trips are cancelled."

Right: Michelle Occhlogrosso, Gr.11 smles six feet under ground while cave diving on her geography field trip. "It was freezing under there!" said Michelle.

Mr. Havercroft added, 'The wide responded well, but there were some cases of claustrophobia."

VIVE LE FRANÇAIS...

Und Vergessen Sie Deutsch

Bienvenue à la page du language... KCSS offers its students two alternative languages to learn, French and German. These languages allow students to further their knowledge and understanding in the language that they chose. There are many benefits in choosing to learn a second language. The German class went to Oktoberfest and learned all about the German culture and traditions. As well they ate traditional food and danced the polka. Unfortunately, the Paris trip this year was cancelled for the French classes. Hopefully it will run again next year, so that next year's French students can experience that culture. Another opportunity that the languages department offers, is a chance for its students to take part in a student exchange program. This program offers students a chance to learn about life in another part of the world. KCSS also welcomes the students who arrive here. KCSS tries its best to make sure their stay here is wonderful. If you are a person who thinks that there is no use in learning another language. that is not true. By learning a new language there will be many opportunites open for you!

(Far left) Kyle Ray pretending to talk on the phone during a French presentation states that. "It is easier to present staff that you understand." Stephanie Sansano, while observing the presentations comments, "It is sometimes hard to follow everything that is said."

You do the hokey pokey and you turn yourself about... that is not exactly what Mrs. Horsk, Mario Buono, Peter Bergeron, and Amanda Gregory are doing as they participate in traditional German lolk denoing at Oktoberlast.

Of course, the annual Math Contest mustn't be forgotten. It celebrates all those with a gift for math, and consists of a friendly battle to see who will come out on top, "We are very concerned for the success of our students," says Mrs. Berdine, head of the math department. "We deliver a caring message and have a variety in our teaching styles. The entire year we have the Math Lab open for extra help and there are always students helping other students, which reinforces learning and encourages excellent rolemodeling." That's certainly a positive message for all students wishing to receive a good education, with hopes of pursuing a career in the math field.

Physical Education Department

King City's Physical Education Department faced some new changes this year. Students were outfitted in new uniforms, and sports such as European Handball and Rugby were introduced.

The mandatory new uniform received negative feedback. Andrew Duggan, grade 12, was one of many students who simply said "no" when asked if they liked the uniform while others had more anarchist attitudes. "I didn't even buy it," said Marc Rimmer, grade 12. However, Mr. Edgar, department head, stressed that "students were part of the decision..."

Ultimately, KCSS students offered various responses of what they got out of the course. Grade 12, Cindy Bridgland said that she enjoyed playing "sports, like" volleyhall and haseball." Jessica Osment, grade 11, said that she liked "the people in my class."

Learning complex solutions to basic laws of science is taught by helpful and understanding teachers at KCSS. Assistance to students is widely prosided through application of scientific methods and studies.

A student could very easily notice the accomodations this science department provides for pupils pursuing a scientific career. Many fields require background education in science and this department provides it all, if not more.

It is important to be fully aware of how science can impact and change lives. Since the early years at KCSS, productiveness, brilliance and higher learning have always been found in this department.

AN APTITUDE FOR ART ... The visual arts department

This year K.C.S.S. student Megan Amedeo won first place in the Vaughan Public Libraries Early Harvest contest. She submitted photographs that were taken and developed in Miss Leishman's photography class.
For one of them she won a plaque, and a prize of $100. The photograph is hanging in the McMichael Art Gallery in Kleinburg. A

The Student Council is the organizer of many events that affect the students at King. They are responsible for dances, lunch-time events like Club Day, and special projects, such as mising money after September 11th. The Student Council also organized the blood drive to come to our school during the last week of November. Many students willingly gave their blood away to belp others in need. Students were asked how they felt and why they did this, "To help other people," Michelle Amore responded. "We like to help out." Meghan Duncan and Claire Garber said. Taylor Jones said he feels us though "I'm making a contribution to other peoples lives."

Members of the Prom and Graduation Committee include; Erin Agar, Ms. Linkwitch, Mrs. Duncan, Antonella Cina, Gloria Cellupica, Rea McNamara, Colin Hillock, Leila Schank, Nancy Vroom, Jana Evans, Daniella Caranci, Rachael D'Addona, Chip Kilitzoglou, Megan Amedeo, and Becky Forsythe

The Graduation Committee had fun this year developing neat events for our senior students. Despite having so much work to do, organizing Prom. fundraising, and planning cool ideas, the team worked well together and had fun doing it. The Graduation Committee was something new this year, instead of just having a Prom Committee. This committee worked all year and didn't just focus on Prom. Hopefully this will be a tradition for years to come.

The Electric Car was designed and built by: Peter Martin, Adam Gaucci, Jan Schneider, Inuk Zandvakili, Andre Small, Jacob Murray, Nick Dyment and Mr. Harris.

The S.A.C includes: Tiffany Morass, Kasia Jerzak, Denita Allick, Sarah Emmett, Paulo Sacilotto, Catie Lane, Brandon Wren, Alana Wren, Ashleigh Smith, Colin Hillock, Leila Schank, Cam Norman, Whitney Stranks, Darryl Hely, and Mr. Mallory

The Electric Car Club designed and built an electric car for the Queen's Electric Car Competition. The car ran on twenty-four wolf butteries, had solar panels, and was capable of shifting gears and varying speeds.

All are welcome to join the club. Any donations of parts would be appreciated. Parts of old bikes, old cars, just to name a few things, are always needed. Left: Mr. Mallory, S.A.C's teacher associate, shows off his spirit in the halls.

The Student Athletic Council is responsible for organizing and promoting King City's sporting events and furthering its athletic tradition. This year, S.A.C. organized the selling of personalized school sweat shirts to increase school spirit. Their famous Pep Rallies offered everyone a chance to show off their spirit. However, we all know that the ability to buy out of class to go see a football match is S.A.C's greatest gift to the school.

Right: The Photography Club's layout at King Klub Day. The layout was organized by Ms. Leishman, Laura Smith, and Chris Borcsok.

The Photography Club meets twice a week, from 2:45 to 4:15 pm. Students take pictures on their own time. Then Tuesdays they develop their prints and on Thursdays they develop their negatives when there is a demand to do so. It is a drop in club, so you only stay for as long as you need to to get your work done. The work is done in the dark room and the Photography Club works exclusively with black and white film. The club is also interested in doing special projects, such as documenting the school play in black and white style photography. New members are always welcome.

Film Club

Film Club members include: Ross Tubb, Karl Mueller, Shawn Roach, Inuk Zandvakili, Mr. Sebastiano, Ms. Leishman, Ashley Merrin, Amanda Fisher, and Alicia Donis. Absent: Laura Grande.

Left: Alicia Donis mans the Film Club display at Club Day. "This club is great. We don't watch stupid movies, but ones that make you think."

The Film Club usually meets on the last Wednesday of the month, from 2:45 to 6:00 pm in order to watch an entire movie. Movies generally have good plots, interesting twists and surprise endings, and every meeting comes supplied with many flavours of popcorn. After the film is over, the club's members discuss the movie's plot, ideas, characters, cinematography, and actors.

Laura Grande, one of the members of the club, enjoys it because, "It gives you the opportunity to meet other people that like to watch movies."

Flute Ensemble: This group of dedicated flutists had their debut while performing for the Girl Guides of Canada. They also performed at all of our school concerts. Jazz Groups: This year three Jazz groups were added to our program. They include Jazz Band where junior students can begin to learn and more senior students can learn to play a new instrument, Jazz Ensemble for senior players, and the Jazz Combo for students who wish to develop their skills. Percussion Ensemble: Although only some are percussionists, the students had a great time this year learning how difficult it is to play rhythmic instruments in musical ways. Their performances at our concerts were a highlight for the audiences.

Yearbook is one of the most memorable (and stressful!) club/classes in the school. The task of recording an entire year is a huge one and deadlines don't make it any easier! However, there's nothing like being the one that takes the amazing pictures or captures the fun on paper. It's your chance to immortalize those moments that help define a school year and the people that are a part of it. The afternoons sacrificed to meet a deadline are worth it in the end, when, in June, the product of blood, sweat, and tears is finally displayed to the entire school. The knowledge that people will look at their yearbooks in the future and remember their highschool life is reward enough. The fact that the yearbook staff gets personalized yearbooks doesn't burt either.

DECA (Delta Epsilon Chi Association) is a business association for aspiring students. Members get the opportunity to show off their knowledge in a variety of different business aspects like marketing, management, and retail, in a two day provincial competition held in downtown Toronto in February.

DECA is widely known for their follipop sales which happen during all three lunches. Lollipops are sold for only 75 cents in front of the cafeteria. Evidence of the popularity of these lollipops can be seen from the colourful tongues of people in Period Four.

In addition to Iollipop sales, DECA also helps with lunchtime Jams in the Cafe and Dances.

Executive meetings are held every Friday from 2:30 onwards. General membership meetings are held every other week.

Environmental Club

Environmental Members: Peter Martin, Jen Atkinson, Mrs. Smith, Inuk Zandvakili, Hilary Sutherland, Torie Boynton, Andrew Acchlone, Matt Bergeron , Ross Tubb, Mrs. Hewitt, Ms. McGuire, Adam Gauci, Holly Hamilton, Allan Mooney, and Mr. Garner.

The Environmental Club is devoted to promoting environmentally friendly ideas and actions throughout the school and the community. In the past, several projects have contributed to the beauty and environmental record of the school. Adam Goucci, Heather and Jen Atkinson, and Inuk Zandvakili man the Environmental Display on Parent-Teacher Night.

Among these projects were the courtyard pond and garden, the trees planted around the school, and the carefully tended gardens on school property. This year was no different, with gardening and tending the pond. It also faunched several school spirit-building events, such as the Dye Your Teacher Green contest and the Examination Good luck charms.

Jen Atkinson, a former student, Inuk Zandvakilli, Allan Mooney, Jennifer Anstey, Holly Hamilton, and Hillary Sutherland in spring of 2001, display the popcans collected for the PopCan Pyramid.

Mrs. Smith sits on the rock donated in memory of Graeme Gilday. Mr. Gilday helped the Environmental Club with many projects, including the solar panels.

KCSS has produced many fond memories and talented athletes, who will be remembered on our Wall of Fame. From spikes to touch downs, our athletes always make us proud.

Senior Football

The King City Lions were expecting more this year with the kind of talent and desire they had, as well as an outstanding coaching staff. With one of the best defensive squads in the league this year, "We were kind of surprised that we didn't end up in the finals against. Markham," says Jim Weir. Due to the great coaching of Mr. Mattiory and Mr. Isdour, our defence was hitting harder and was more disciplined than ever before.

With head coach Mr. Matwajer and Mr. Horsey helping out, the offensive boys did well. This year, with the return of the Currount, the team's passing game came alive. To all the graduating players, remember all the fun in the locker room and on the field. King City Football is the most exciting ride of your high school years!

It's been many years since our junior football team won a championship game. Mr. Miller, the new head coach of the team did an excellent job taking these boys. all the way. With his hard practices day after day, the boys got faster and played a lot smarter during the games. The boys showed their dedication and effort in these games. They had an incredible win against the Richmond Hill Raiders in the championship game. The boys ended their season with a 7-1 record. With running backs like Adam Zorzit and Cleon Holmes, it's no wonder that they only lost one game. Way to go guys. Keep it up in years to come!

You can always find Cherlene McMann on the field ready to play This year Charlene was chosen captain of the field hookey team, and definitely pleased the team.

Lauren Zweep watches her ball as it soars through the air. Marie Cutler, a senior player quotes, "Irs so good to have younger players on the feam, so that they can be there all the way through KCSS."

Tella Whittaker runs off the field, with a smile on her face, anxious to get back on, after she rehydrates berself.

Ms. Bolitho makes these girls practice all the time. Laura Smith il just one of the players who have perfected the skill of passing.

Marie Cutier and Whitney Stranks quickly practice some plays before they head out onto the field for the big game. Marie and Whitney are both leaving the team this year because they both are graduating. Whitney quotes. "It was fun while it tasted." We will all miss these girls.

Although the girls did not always come out on top, the team held together and had an awesome season. The team played lots of games, which was the goal of the season. "When the team worked together we would always accomplish something, but when we didn't work together we didn't come out with anything accomplished," says former player Whitney Stranks.

The King Lions' Goelle, Leura Grande looks tough on and off the field. "The season was awasome. We all worked together to help each other out."

Cross Country

Practice makes perfect: Collin Hillock has just about perfected the art of kicking the ball... which may explain why he is such a great soccer player. Christian Haba observes his teamates technique and gets ready to take a pass during a practice after school.

This year's Senior Boys team had enough talent and leadership to challenge the best teams in the league. An excellent effort was given day in and day out by every player on the team and a good time was had by all. 'It's all about having fun," says Victor Popescu. Best of luck to the boys next season as they will surely continue to improve!

In a year that was filled with glorious moments and heart pounding finishes, our school's junior boys bockey team proved to be one of the best bockey teams our school has seen in years. With amazing talent and desire on the ice, combined with mastermind leadership and coaching on the bench, these young men made a name for themselves at this competitive level of hockey.

The team finished the season with an impressive 5-1 record and put together a strong playoff effort. They will surely be a team to watch for next season and seasons to come. Keep up the good work boys! We look forward to seeing you on the ice next year!

Andrew Cuch reflects after the game saying "The team worked hard and deserved to come away with the final win, but we just came a little short and unfortunately had to settle for a second place finish." Not too shabby though boys!

Senior Volleyball...

Bump, set, spike we do it all, the only sport is Volleyball

This year, our senior girls had a good start to their season. Everyone improved a lot after they got back into the gym after a two year break. The girls really came together as a team when they played in a tournament at Huron Heights and placed 4th in a tie-breaker game that they lost 16-14. All of the girls played amazingly well. In February, the girls travelled to Ottawa to play in a tournament against teams from all over Ontario. They contimed their great season while there. The team would like to thank Ms. Chan, Ms. Kelson, Arsham Sheikhtavi, Andrew Ascenzi, and Chris Cardoni for their help this year.

Rebecca Varga sets up for a serve. Her face is looking very serious. Tina Siemens says. She is an awesome player." So Rebecca, can we expect an ace?

Jocelyn Moffett is going up for a spike at the tournament against Huron Heights. By the tooks on the other team's faces, looks like they're pretty scared!

Meghan Duncan steps back, preparing to deliver one of her perfect sets to her teammates. Meghan is doing a great job this year, despite being one of the youngest.

"Ready coations girls," yells Ms. Keleon from the sidefines. The girls are getting ready to receive a serve from Vaughan Secondary School at KCSS.

Most Valuble Players...

Senior Football

Arsham Sheikhtavi

Position:

Linebacker

Number:

43

Arsham was the strongest player on the team this year. He showed excellent lendership towards the other players on his team. His strong commitment and dedication will take him far as he moves on to bigger and better things. We'll miss you here at RCSS, Arsham, but good lock!

Junior Football:

Adam Zorzit

Position:

Running Back

21

Adam easily outran the competition in every game he played. He lead the team to a championship and a 7-1 record. His attitude towards the game and the other players on the team was always positive. What team could ask for more?

Senior Gans volleyhall

Jocelyn Moffett

Positions:

Middle

Numbees

The tall blond of this unstoppable two-some. Jocelyn had unlimited power and damaging spikes. She was highly intelligent in her strategic plays. She did it all with grace and finesse. Jocelyn was a high spirited player... "Let's hear it girls. King on two, one, two...KING!" These co-captains will be back next year, so look out York Region!

Senior Curls Volleymile

Rebecca Varga

Position:

Power

Number

174

The energy on the court rose about ten levels when this girl stepped on. Rebecca was the buff brunette who got the team up, happy and cheering every step of the way. But as enthusiastic as she was, she was a very intimidating presence to the other teams. Her precision serves and powerful spikes were consistant and hard all season. Rebecca can do it all!

Junior Girls Volleyball:

Kayla Patey

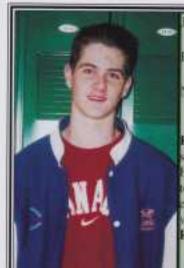

Position:

Power

Number:

55

Kayla was an amazing player. This grade nine girl was a senior caliber player who was playing on a junior team. Her skills far surpassed her age grouping, and her enthusiasm for the game was unmatched. KCSS is very lucky that she is going to be here for three more seasons.

Junior Boys Baskethall:

Randy Schwartz

Position:

Forward

24

Randy showed the team excellent skills, both on offence and defence. His ability to lend his team to victory was overshadowed only by his enthusiasm for the game. "Score if you can, beat ux if we let you!" -Randy Schwartz.

...On and off the field

Senior Girls Basketball

Danita Allick

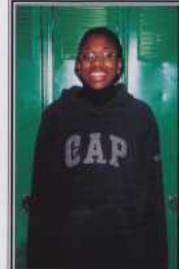

Position:

All

Number:

Danita Allick is described by her coaches as, "a multi-ralented player who could play any position." She was a fine example of sportspersonship and a role model to all her peers. "Danita showed terrific team spirit on and off the bench," says teammate Lindsay Park, Way to go Danita! Keep it up next season!

unior Girls Basketball:

Lisa Miller

Position:

Forward

Number:

32

This team player was a strong moivational force on the team. Not only did she play a great game on the court, Lisa had a positive impact from the sidelines. "Call your numbers! Defence! Pick!" were just some of the words Lisa yelled from the sidelines. Lisa, a grade 9 student, has a great career abead of her as a coach. Way to go Lisa!

Boys Volleyball:

Greg Zatylovsky

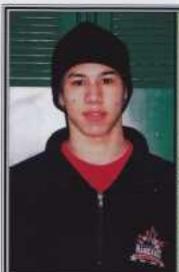

Position:

Middle

Number:

21

Greg was the most consistant player this season. His dedications showed in every game be played. Unfortunatly, a broken finger ended his otherwise very strong campaign. His leadership and playing skills continued to imporve all year long. Keep it up Greg!

Boys Hockey:

Andrew Cuch

Position:

Centre

Number:

:3

Without a doubt, Cuch had to be one of the better forwards to suit up for King City Hockey. "Cuch has the ability not only to stop on a dime but also to change gears and fly by his opponents with his skuting skills. Sweet moves, Andrew!" says coach Mr. Kraemer.

Boys Socceri

Colin Hillock

Position:

Center Defence

- 0

Culin Hillock, the team captain, had that rare combination of skill and character that allowed him to be a role model under any circumstances. Cheerful, yet manne, Colin showed precisely the kind of leadership they needed in a not-so-successful season. Winning or losing, the team can always rely on Colin to give it his best. In sports, there is no better objective.

Field Hockey:

Charlene McMann

osition

Link

Charlene was the most dedicated girl on the Field Hockey team. She had no problem with giving up her own time to go to Field Hockey camp. She showed great talent in the Link postion, and her leadership skills were always evident on the field.

King City Secondary School alway repents to pick the best days for their annual grade 9 King Gamp. This year the dates were Monday September 24th through Wednesday September 26th. As the 24th arrived you could see the curiosity and excitement growing in students', mentors' and even teachers' eyes. If nothing else it would be three days away from school right? However on Monday everyone awoke to lots and lots of very cold and rainy weather! Everyone dressed in their warmest waterproof clothes and met in the cafeteria where there was a whirl of commotion!

Mentors were jumping up and down dressed in King colours and singing camp songs at the top of their lungs. Teachers were rushing back and forth trying to organize buses. Even the grade 9 students were adding to the commotion with their excited chatter. A short bus ride later, the group arrived at in wet, moddy haven known as Camp Robin Hood! Excited wet students headed off to numerous activities and destinations with their mentors. Camp had everything from rock climbing to circle games. Some brave students even donned bathing suits and jumped into the camp's pool. "The game where people threw tennis balls at as was my favourite," laughs Isaac Armstrong, "because my friend Michael Mueller got hit a lot." At the end of the three days everyone brought back great memories. The grade nine students should definitely give Ms. Linkewich and all her helpers a round of applause for a camp well planned. Even the food was great! Pizza, chips, veggic bargers... only the best for King students! If only King Camp wasn't only for grade nines!

The Night of Frights - ghouls ruled the school

Whether you're still trick-or-treating, wearing an outrageous costume from devils to bowling pins, or enjoying this unique holiday. Hallowe'en is still an exciting day. It's a day when the school is filled with blissful and dazzlingly dressed up people. Even teachers come dressed up with elaborate costumes. Every Hallowe'en at KCSS is just as thrilling as the last, and this year was no exception. The school council put together a spine-tingling contest to see which homeroom could design the most imaginative costume. Top honours went to Ms. Hunter's class, Mr. Mallory's class with the "Trojan guy", and Mr. Black's class.

With the students on an extreme sugar high from generous teachers handing out tons of chocolate and other treats, the day's celebrations were capped off with a rocking Hallowe'en dance sponsored by the student council. One of the main features of the dance was a break dancing contest which was won by Charlie Nguyen. When all was said and done the students agreed the day was one of the best Hallowe'en celebrations ever.

Now here's an odd pair, how many times do you see a devil (Ashley Grate standing and smilling alongside our school mascot (Amanda Moschitti). "This is the one time that I can show my true self," notes Ashley with a devious smile.

Three ladies, Natalia Rotondo, Shannon Briggs and Marie Cutter are dressed to kill (no pun intended) during Ms. Turner's OAC French class. "I wish I'd dressed up too for Hallowe'en, so that I could be in this picture!" replies Alicia Donis dessmate to the girls.

Yee-Haw! These two KCSS cowgirls, Ashley Cross and Krystal Whatling, are just coming back from a long morning of rounding up the cattle. "People always said that King students were farming tricks but this definitely confirms iff comments Brandon Zweep.

Minimi doesn't that look good to eat? Ross Tubb is taking the funchtime hunger a little too far in journalism class. "Hey when you're that hungry, anything fastes good," comments Ross. Classmatin, Sukaina Jiwani, says "Ross has always taken food seriously, but this is taking it to a new level."

FIELD TRIPS & CANDIDS

This year KCSS had a variety of different field trips at a variety of very interesting places. Mrs. Crosby and Ms. Dewell brought their classes on an exciting adventure to The Royal George Theatre in Niagara-on-the-Lake for their music/drama field trip. The production was a part of the famous Shaw Festival. Mrs. Smith brought the Environmental Club on a hike out to the Kortright Centre.

Mr. Gamer decided to hit the slopes with some of his students: Andrew and Lindsay. They had an absolute blast, hopefully without the frost bite.

This year KCSS also had a few really funny candids, which will not be forgotten. We had someone doing a dive down the stairs and a student showing off her behind in the middle of the hall.

Shake it... Alex Tortosa stops in the half to give her behind a little shake.

OUCHI! Maggie Turner decided to do a front dive down the stairs... oops! Luckily it is just a posed shot taken by a journalism student.

Singing in the rain... Mrs. Smith's Environmental Club all try to huddle under her umbrella to keep away from the rain, but not Jennifer Atkinson who says, "I love being outside in the rain." She must have loved this wot trip to the Kortright Centre than!

Christmas...

"A time to remember."

December was an exciting month at King City. Holiday festivities were in high gear. Two of the hig events were the OAC Christmas assembly and the Parenting classes' holiday party.

The Family Studies students searned about child development and from this unit the idea of having the staff's children come in for the day evolved.

This special event took place on the last week of school before we were all freed for the Christmas holidays. In the morning, the children went around to each classroom and screnaded KCSS students with Christmas carols. After that, they went back to Room 211 where they were read stories by two fabulous OAC students Mike Scott and Lyndsey Anderson. The excitement built when Mrs. Vickers brought in a surprise, a banny rabbit!

The OAC assembly was hold during the last period before the holidays. Students and staff alike enjoyed the call for school spirit as the main characters travelled through a series of past, present and future school experiences. Great job OACs!!

Valentines week at King City was full of fun!

Monday- Battle of the Sexes

Tuesday- Selling the Seniors

Wednesday- Karaoke and Lipsyncing

Thursday- Valentines Day, Rosegrams, Data Match

It was fun while it lasted, but it all came to an end on Friday. Unfortunately students had to break from all those Valentines Day shannagans, to get back to work, but it was a week to remember.

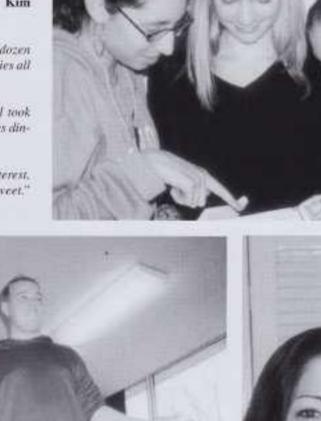

Here's Stephanie Gray being sold at "Selling the Seniors". She was sold for $10. "If was a lot of furt" she tells. "If was very entertaining!" claims Rebecca Varga.

Quotes of the Week

Attitio Commisso and David Liguori are showing their school spirit while sing the YMCA at our karacke and lipsyncing day. "It went well, I'd hoped that more people would get involved," forie Boynton, a member of the stutent council mentions.

The winners of Battle of the Sexes are Laura DeSanctis. Meline Svadjian and Nicole Armstrong for the ladies side. "We let the girls wint" Steve Reid boasts.

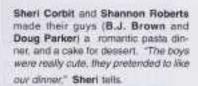

Meena Sharifi and Neeta Sumessar show the beautiful roses they received for Valentines Day. "Aww. they're so sweet!" Amelia Jabar comments.

Winter Wonderland

King City & mi-Formal 2001

King City's 2001 Semi-Formal was held at DiNardo's banquet hall in Aurora, on December 7th. It was a night of dinner and dancing. The place was elegantly decorated with balloons of all different shades of blue to match the theme, Winter Wonderland.

Love's in the air:

Sarah Jones says, "We had to play hot potatoes for the fishes, I had to take off my shoes because I was taller than thim (Derek Wise)."

Craig Patterson says. "The fishes were a gimic for this year's semi. They died within 3 days."

Keep your hands to yourself!: "Graig Patterson's trying to stop Jay Ottaway from holding my hand." explains Jacob Murray. "Looks ike Bill Botle is trying to ignore the furny business behind him," laughs Ajay Dhamrait.

"This year's centre piece was a huge hit," states student body president, Micheile Sukhu. "Some fish even had one eye!" Fish were taken home that night after everybody played a challenging game of hot potato, with a napkin. That evening, classy King City students entered DiNardo's and filled the place with energy and excitement. Though there were no compliments to the chef, the music variety ranged from Grease to hip hop, making it easy for anyone to forget about the food and get their groove on. Like a Cinderella story, the party ended at 12 midnight. The night went smoothly, the evening was enjoyed by all, and it was definitely a night to be remembered by all King City staff and students that attended the event.

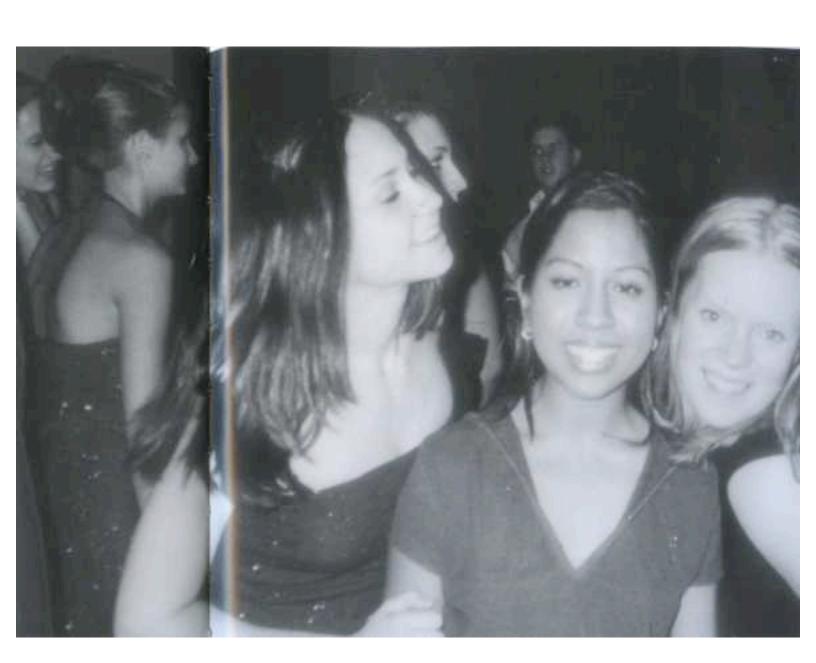

Too hot for semi:
"They had to cool us off with water after we were on fire on the dance floor" claims. Cam Norman.

itudent Council parties it up at semi: Sudent Council show off their enthusiasm for the event. Koah Kalson-Ray, Michelle Sukhu, and Stephanie Wheeler are very happy with how smoothly things went, and with the different variety of grades that attended Semiformal. Kosh says, "Sami turned out more tun than planned."

Art is defined in the Pocket Oxford Dictionary as, "a human creativity, any specific skill or a making of things that have form or beauty." Here at King, we shine in many forms of art. Not only art itself, but photography, drama and music. This year's highlight in the Drama department was the Sears Festival, Two student-directed plays, The Questioning of Nick, directed by Teila Whittaker, Tosha Buchanan and Sara Perzia, and The Rats, directed by Cam Davis and co-directed by Mark Bernardi. These two performances along with our annual chool play. The Importance of Being Earnest, show KCSS's flure for dramatics. Photography has sprung out in this past year due to our new and improved darkroom. We now have many students showing us their talents through the lens of a camera. As well as photography, music has come back strong with the help of our two new music teachers, Ms. Harvey and Ms. Crosby, who have brought a new light to the music department. As always . KCSS artists are some of the best. Just walk into any art oom and you will be amazed ith what you see.

YEARBOOK RAFFLE WINNER: TAMARA FORBES

This year the Journalism class created an exciting way to raise funds and to include the student body in the production of the yearbook. The class heid a raffle. Students could buy tickets for $2 each or three for $5. The grand prize winner of the contest was Tamara Forbes who won an entire yearbook page. The second prize winner was Ricky Munshaw. Since Ricky was in the journalism class he generously gave his half page prize to Natalie Munro who had purchised more tickets than anyone else but had not had her name drawn in the raffle. The third prize awarded to Mr. McGugan was donated to King's new Prefect Society. To see the second and third place prizes see page 142.

This page features our grand prize winner Tamara Forbes with her friends and family. Congratulations Tamara. We hope you enjoy these memories!

At King City, the diverse students who attend all come from different and unique communities. With this knowledge we hope to grow together as one.

Community

commun'ity: joint ownership or common position in regard to something, a body of persons having a life on any scale; eg. town, school.

King City...

"Where everybody knows your name."

King City is the home of our school and the gathering place of hundreds of students each day. The plaza, Country Style and Shoeless Joe's are great places to hang-out for students trying to get away from the worries and pressures of school. King might not be the biggest place in the world but we sure know how to throw a party!

MAPLE/WOODBRIDGE

"NOGINONOCRY"

Every other person you see coming the halls of KCSS is from Maple or Woodbridge. They populate about half of the school.

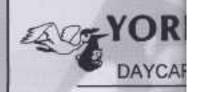

These people are lucky. Unlike their King City and Schomberg counter parts, they have so many places to chill such as Colossus, AMC, Coffee Time, various food places like Jack Astors, and clothing stores. They also have Wonderland which is a main theme park in Canada. The school has a partnership with this organization which allows students to have access to work for three co-op credits.

The students in Maple and Woodbridge have brought diversity to the halls of KCSS. "Yo guy!" and "Dude, Bud, My Civic she boots!" are terms that have never echoed in the hallways so frequently. The change in the KCSS community has been a source of good-matured humour as the OAC Assembly demonstrated with the 'dance off' skit. But on a more serious note, this diversity has enriched the entire KCSS community. Even though the Mapleo-neons will be moving to their new high school next year ("Yeak! Hall space! I can move!") friendships have been formed that will never be forgotten. Our fellow KCSS'ers will sadly be missed, at least until we meet them on the football field!

Everyone say hi to Steve Stanowski who is heading to the Itinary after class. Sabrina Quattrociocchi says. "Yani" / found a Woodbridger!" as she searches for people for yearbook pictures.

Robleton

With a population just over that of King City's the little town of Nobleton is a pretty tockin' place to be. "Rockin", how you ask? Well Nobleton has all the essentials. Tower Burgers, Tim Hortons, and the ever so popular Nobleton Arena where dreams are made. Local resident Ryan Nicholas summed up Nobleton life in one sentence. "Good times, good friends, good parties.... good times!"

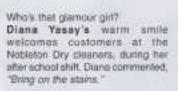

It's not only the locals that love the town so much. When Maple boy Arsham Sheikhtavi was asked what he is going to do this Friday night? He replied "Fire me a cowboy hat because I'm going to Nobleton!" People simply love the Nobleton experience.

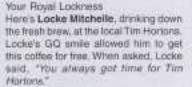

Here is the inflamous Tower Burgers. A place where the service is rude but you get some good food. Located in the heart of Nobleton this restaurant serves the best burgers this side of York Region.

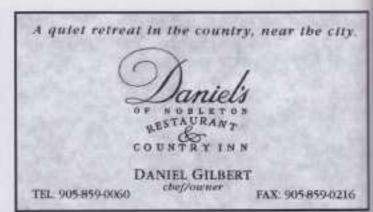

Here is Amy Cook at the Petro Canada in Nobleton working the right shift, where it is likely you can find a Cook. Amy had this to say "Sometimes I get claustrophobic in here."

Aaron Martin is writing up a late fine on his weekend shift down at the local Pick-a-Fick. When asked about late returns Aaron replied. "Be kind rewind."

Here's Kettleby's own Zac Hobson strutting his stuff at the senior auction. When we asked Zac why girls love guys from Kettleby so much he

") just provide the ladies with what they want". Nobody has seen girls ever holler for a country boy like this since Garth Brooks same to town last

Marie Cutter and Tanya Moore look like two of a kind at King City's 2001 prom. Prom being based in Kettleby at Carrying Place was definitely a hit. Marie had this to say about the small town, "Although it is a small fown Carrying Place gives Kettleby a gorgeous atmosphere."

Pottageville and Kettleby

People call Kettleby and Pottageville a one horse town, but little do they know there are many horses, as well as cows and sheep. Although these are two of the smaller communities Kettleby and Pottageville bring King City some of the best students and athletes. Kettleby offers antique beritage within the small town's atmosphere. Conversely, Pottageville's main attraction is the local nudist colony. The two towns offer a peaceful rural environment. Both towns have more livestock than you can shake a stick at. Kettleby is home to Carrying Place where last year's promwas held and Pottageville boasts Jay's Variety. Both towns offer fresh country air, and well maintained farm land. People think these local towns are quiet, but don't be fooled, because when the lights go out. the howlin' starts.

Chris Borcsok looks back on his home sadly as he ventures onwards to King City. When Chris was asked about his home he told us. "This town a like a part of me, when I leave it's like I'm losing a part of myself."

Here's Kathleen Megna sprawled out in anticipation for returning home back. to Pottageville. Kathleen had a brief. statement about her town. "I love Potta... anhtill". Then she was nailed by the car. The driver of the car Michelle Denny had this to say. 'She talks too much"

Jeff Moore gives two thumbs up to his home town. We asked Jeff why he loves it so much. He told us "Jave the marsh? We asked him to elaborate but for some strange reason. the couldn't stop smiling and repeating " love the marsh", but we still appreciate Juff's enthusiasm about his nome town.

The Good the Bad and the Skeepy. Hey partner you a wake?

Here's A.J. Dhamrait enjoying a quiet ovening at the Esso Gas station. This gas station is where A.J and his family dwell, and is also one of the main attractions in Pottageville. A.J is an active participant on the King City Football and hockey team. In a sleepy tone of voice A.J had this to say " We better get some shut eye I've got school fornorrow." Friend Darryl Hely says, "A.J's general store covers all my munchy needs."

YONGE STREET

Ever been to Yonge Street? It is the longest street in the world and can make some drivers feel like they have experienced dela vu, going incircles off the same street. If you're lucky enough to avoid getting lost. you'll notice Youge Street tan take. you in and out of the heart of Aurora, Newmarket, Oak Ridges, and Richmond Hill. You're sure to see at least one person you know from K.C.S.S. living or working on this famous street. If you want to grah a bite to est, A&W is a home style favourite. For a fun evening, visit the pub and get your groove on. For all your shopping needs, visit the Upper Canada Mall to find almost everything and anything, For the prom goers, there's always Sabrina Designs, bur don't

TRULY

As we look back at the school year of 2001-2002, we find a year that was filled with events that were both extremely tragic and memorable. It was only a week into the school year when news broke of the terrorist attacks on the United States. There is no doubt that September 11th will be a day that everyone will remember for the rest of their lives.

In spite of many ups and downs during the year, we managed to maintain school spirit and remain active in extracurricular activities. Whether it was in clubs, sports teams, pep rallies, or the memorable OAC Christmas Assembly, our school spirit came through in full force.

When Canada faced the U.S. in both women's and men's backey in the 2002 Winter Olympics in February and dominated them, our spirit was exemplified when half of the students come to them, our spirit was exemplified when half of the students came to school after the weekend wearing flags or sporting the maple leaf somewhere on their bodies.

All these examples show our spirit for both our country and our school. Our spirit shows others that no matter what gets us down, we will always remember the good times and we will take those memories with us after graduation, which makes the time that we spend in high-school all worth while and truly embracing.

End of Semester Party. Semester I class celebrates completing their course.

Jess Bartram, one of the artists for the yearbook, pauses in the halls for a picture.

It has been a busy year for the yearbook staff. We would like to start by saying thank you and congramlations to the students in both the semester one and semester two classes. Without your hard work and dedication this would not have been possible. We would also like to thank Jerome Merrin our publishing representative. He came to the school and taught us about the art of publishing a yearbook. His expertise was well received and appreciated. Speaking of art, special thanks go out to Jess Bartram and Amanda Martin for their exceptional fron drawings used on the section dividers. Thank you to Ms. Leishman for training such good artists, as well for taking photos and allowing our staff to work on the network during her classes. Throughout the year we had many technical problems. mostly relating to printing. Thankfully Mrs. Vickers was always there to help. None of this would have been possible without her technical support. Editing is another key aspect to the success of the yearbook, and there would have been no way that Ms. Morris could have edited everything on her own. Thanks goes out to the other teachers who helped check our spelling, Ms. Sobko, Ms. Van Enckeyort, and Ms. Crosby. Managing finances are always an issue in any undertaking, including the production of the school yearbook. Thanks to our helpful student council, that burden was taken care of. Thank you Lifetouch for taking all our great portraits.

Elana and Taylor play Milk the Cow.
"If you don't milk the cowe is at enough they blow up," says Elana Martina.
Keep up the hard work on the yearbook guys.

Ms. Sobko, one of the chief edtors for the yearbook, relaxes after class before getting back to editing.

This coke says it all. Great work everyone. If sust goes to show you what a little determination and affort can do.

How many times did Mrs. Vickers have to fix our printer or our network problems this year? The answer is a of more than we can remainber. Thanks.

Another year at King City Secondary School has come to an end. The halls will soon be empty, but the laughter that echoes throughout the halls will remain in the
