This Book is a tribute to mr. t. O'Beirn ....

KING
Student Council

KING CITY SECONDARY SCHOOL
P.O. BOX 40, KING CITY, ONTARIO

June 1978

Dear Reader:

Thank-you for stopping to read this editorial. It will be the only one I will write. I hope that you will enjoy reading this year book. At this time I would like to thank the following people: Kim Caruana, Cristine Budweth, Micheal Zajac, Yvonne Munroe, George Gould, Joe Sweet, Chris Ballard, Kathy Gibson, Keith Franklin, Mark Walker, Jennifer Loadman and Shawn Alsop. I would especially like to thank Marilyn Folliott who is my secretary and co-editor. Stephen Zajac for his art and his general all round help. Natale Hnatiuk for painstakingly writing the grad comments. Mr. Edwards for standing by and watching over us. Dorothy Engleman for the sport section. Mr. Nettleton and his marketing classes for their advertising.

Before you begin to critisize this year book, take a moment to think about what you have contributed in the way of pictures, art work, write-ups and most of all your time. Dispite all the trouble we had in production stages, my friends and I feel that we have done the best job possible with the material that was available. The reason we put in all the time was to create a year book that the school could be proud of. We feel it was worth it.

For those of you who will carry on the Archon tradition I would like to wish you the best of luck, and hope that you will have an even better year than we did.

In conclusion, if I failed to thank anyone here it is now:

THANK-YOU !

The Editor

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Eight years have passed since I wrote my first message for the Archon. During those years, a whole generation of students has progressed through the school and a new generation has taken its place. My farewell is directed, not only to those members of the staff and to those students who are in the school today, but to those, as well, who have been associated with the school during the past eight years. Our motto is "SEMPER PROGREDIENS", and progress implies that we must move on to meet new challenges.

I look forward to the challenge of my new position, but I will have many memories of K.C.S.S. and the people whose co-operation and friendliness have made my stay here so pleasant.

Keep up your efforts! Continue to do things because they should be done rather than because they are easier to do. Continue to work for the worthwhile things in life. Then, when your work is through, remember the years at King.

Bill Eberley

Farewell, Silver Fox

VICE-PRINCIPAL'S REMARKS

I was first notified of my appointment as vice-principal of King City Secondary School in May of 1976. I was very pleased because I knew I would be working with Bill Eckersley whom I had known from my days at Williams. I believe that the two years we have spent together serving the educational community of King City Secondary School have proved beneficial to both Staff and Students.

It is, however, my unhappy task to say good-bye to Bill after two short years and to wish him well in his new position. K.C.S.S. will continue, I am sure, under our new principal, to be the school that it has grown to be under Mr. Eckersley.

I would personally like to thank you, Bill, for your Leadership, Partnership and Friendship.

A TRIBUTE

Friend, teacher,
Colleague, gentleman:
All four and more

We miss you now
And mourn your loss

As friend, for you warmed us
With a gentle goodness

As teacher, for you left us
Clarity of vision

As colleague, for you gave us
Counsel, wisdom, fullness

As gentleman, for you taught us
A pervasive kindness

Upon our lives you placed a mark
Which will not fade, Carl.
We thank you, friend.

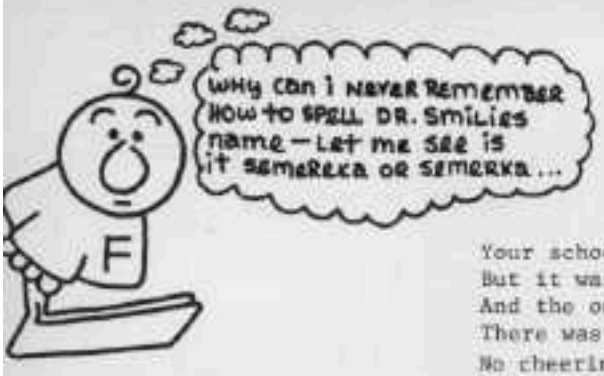
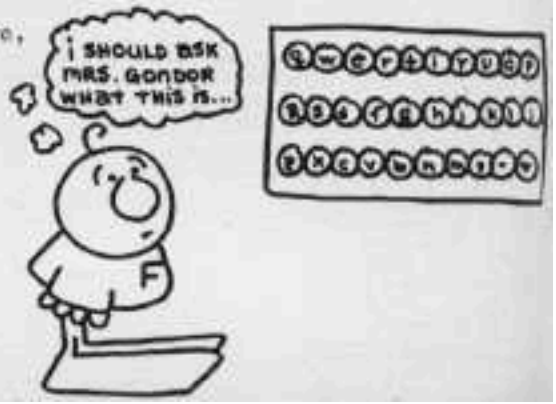
THE WIND OF THE NIGHT

When the wind rose
After the heat of the day
When life was at its height
He left
Leaving people to mourn and miss him
And realize his full character
He left
On the wind of the night.
And many days will pass
Before he is forgotten
Since he left
On the wind of the night.
And he shall shine in all eyes
As a star of life
To remain in our hearts, forever.



THIRTEEN YEARS

Your school career ended on Friday,
But it was a Friday like the one before,
And the one last month, or last year, or thirteen years ago.
There was no celebration, or jubilation.
No cheering or sadness, just another Friday.
There was talk about the weekend and the party that night,
But not a word about the milestone.
Your school career ended with no fanfare
Merely an emptiness.
There were not tearful good-byes or emotion-filled farewells,
There were just the usual cordialities.
You'd see them all at the party, you thought,
But wasn't there someone who didn't come.
Someone special you may never see again; Or maybe once more.
Thirteen years came to an end on Friday;
Thirteen special years,
Thirteen awful years,
Thirteen educating years, and thirteen long years.
What do you remember best;
The class speech in grade five,
Singing in the grade two choir,
Coming in fourth in the Science Fair in Grade ten,
Being Vice-President.
Being in the "A" reading group in grade one.
Your project on Astronauts in grade six,
The school play in grade seven,
Blowing-up the Science room.
The dances, the walk-a-thon, the band practices,
The school trips, the soc-a-thon, the field days,
The Prom.
It was all over on Friday past.
Never again would you walk down the halls,
Open your locker,
Go to the cafeteria for lunch,
Be late for class.
Open your Reader, turn to page 69,
Prepare for a spelling bee,
Play ball at recess,
Pick up your report card.
And the Teachers, who molded your future,
Can you remember them all.
The white-haired lady who taught you to read,
The tall young man who strapped you;
The short old man who liked you,
The mad Irishman who didn't.
How did they shape your life?
How did they change your thinking?
Who was your favourite?
Last Friday, when you walked out of the building,
Did you stop to think about all the people
You were leaving behind.
Your best friend from grade school,
The girl you loved when you were twelve,
Your football captain,



Your steady in grade eleven.
All your friends who you hung out with,
Will you ever see them again.
Maybe tomorrow, maybe next month;
Possibly in 1988.
What will they all do?
What will you do without them?
Who will you tell your problems to?
Who will share in your victories and defeats?
Who will say the right things to you?
Who will take their places?
Your School career ended on Friday;

You sat through your last class,
And listened for the last time
To an unimportant announcement from the wall
About a meeting of the Camera Club.
You walked out of class and down the hall,
The same hall,
Took out your jacket and left the school
Forever.

Only once more will you enter the familiar brick building,
To graduate,
To officially confirm something you already know,
School is over.
Maybe you'll go on to University,
Or work for awhile, or travel.
But school is over.
No more will you be burdened with it.
What have the last thirteen years taught you?
What do you know today that you didn't know yesterday,
Or last month or five years ago.
Now you can read and write and find the square root of 225,
But weren't the most important lessons learned
Outside of the classroom.
Courage, fear, skill, ambition,
Were all learned.
Love, hate, social etiquette, awkwardness,
Were all experienced.
Do you stop learning and experiencing
Now that the final dismissal bell has rung?
On Friday your school career ended,
Do you remember the day it started?
Clutching your mother's hand,
Not wanting to be left in that strange place
Filled with strangers;
Hoping you wouldn't cry.
Will you remember the day it ended?
Clutching your girlfriend's hand,
Not wanting to leave that familiar place
Filled with friends;
Hoping you wouldn't cry.
Your school career ended after thirteen years on Friday,
Was it worth it?

We Don't Just Show Your House. We Show It Off.

We show potential buyers all the things that make a house a home. Like extra storage space. Or the view. At CENTURY 21 each salesperson is a specially trained professional, with knowledge of everything from showing houses to real estate rules and regulations. When it's time for you to sell your house, let us show it off.

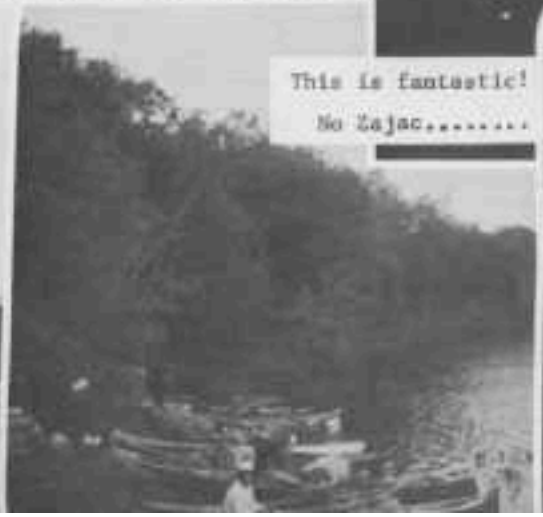
That's ridiculous!!!



This is fantastic!

No Zajac.....

Snow days became almost a national timetable institution.

The Archon broke even.

Grade 13 was the "mouse" race preparing for the rat race.

Dr. Smilic announced his new theory of heredity: If your parents don't have children, you probably won't.

It was the Wright year to visit Greece ..... and some other lucky souls tried France, Germany, and even Quebec.
The rest of us had to settle for King Township and Florida.

The Grade 13's gave up the pursuit of happiness in favour of the happiness of pursuit.

Valentine's Day fell in Birth Control Week.

Grade 13's had their own graffiti board -- recycled.

Alcohol Awareness Day brought King national headlines, and some new learning experiences.
When the Davis government heard of it, they brought in a law to relieve the 18 year olds of the temptation -- or the legal opportunity.

King Carnival had another first: THE HIT MAN

We lost the initiation.

Uncle Eddie lost his whole alphabet and was too sick to claim it from Santa's lost and found.

There were no Student Council Elections for the first time in history.

The dress code was relaxed to include shorts, cutoffs, hot pants -- Is filmsy lingerie next?

Mrs. Dorsey and Mr. Dewell broke hearts by getting married.

The Prom became mobile, and floating besides -- on the Mariposa Belle in Toronto Harbour.

The staff had an emergency meeting to learn of the departure of the principal.

The Clown Prince (Zajac) managed to wangle a position on the Student Council, to rule us all.

Grade 13 got a personally autographed picture from Betsy the Bunny.

The Siderius Follies: An incredible year for the financial cunning of the Student Council.

Paul Tullio copped the Ontario Heavyweight Wrestling Championship.

Algebra 3A-1 taught Mr. Campbell a few things.

The wet T-shirt contest became an annual institution.

The King Canoe trips were so big and busy that there are no pictures to print.

The VET was lost.

The editor of the Archon was brutally murdered for certain things that were published this year.

This Year Grade 11 Tomorrow "THE WORLD"

The girl in this picture can be identified somewhere in the next nine pages. The Guy is a Graduate.

All the grade 11's on the Québec trip passed for 18.
Once again the Grade 11 History students failed to bury Mr. Ellison in his own archaeological pits.
Try as they did the 11 Biology students were unable to lose Mr. Thompson and Mr. Fraser on this year's hike.

This is the year that only grades elevens ran for Students' Council

And as a result there was no election.
