Zeus

Ruler of the Olympian gods

Cachon

KCSS has proudly emblazoned the word ARCHON across its yearbooks since 1961. Have you ever wondered what it means?

Archon is the ancient Greek word for LEADER. It is encountered throughout Greek history as the title of a distinguished individual holding a high position of authority.

KCSS hopes to encourage its students to develop their leadership skills in order to establish themselves as prominent citizens in the community. As the ruler of Mount
Olympus, Zeus wields enormous power and absolute authority. He is the god of the sky and thunde

For the ancient Greeks, the olive branch was a symbol of peace, wisdom, and triumph. An olive wreath was made and used to crown the Olympic champions.

Roc-King Camp 2005

Above: The Grade 9's seem reluctant to jump in a freezing lake in the wee hours of the morning with total strangers. I wonder why?

Right: From left to right is the wide array of student emotion found at ROC-King camp. We all can remember our first days of grade 9 and the fun time we had at ROC-King camp. This year was no different. This years new crop of freshman experienced a good time as we can see from the wacky pictures. Everything from canoeing, wall climbing and jumping off logs in the "Trust" exercise, to just relaxing with a freezie or a spoon on your nose. As always, King camp has provided a great way to help the freshman learn to work with each other and feel comfortable in the high school environment.

HAPPY HALLOWEEN

K.C.S.S enthusiastically took on the Dalloween spirit during the week, as various students participated in Fear Factor, pumpkin decorating, a pic eating contest and dressing up in their favourite costumes.

Zemembrance

On November 11th, 2005, KCSS held their annual Remembrance Day assembly. Students and staff gathered in the gym to pause and remember the thousands of men and women who sacrificed their lives fighting for freedom during WW1 and WW2. KCSS was fortunate enough to have guest speaker Tom Atkins, a soldier in the Canadian Army, address his experiences regarding his role in the attack on the Japanese forces in Alaska, Excellent musical performances prepared by the KCSS band and great drama presentations done by students, ended the assembly on a good note.

Sitting in a classroom can be an educational way to learn, but co-op education takes it further. The co-op program integrates classroom theory with practical experience in a desired workplace. The hands-on experience it provides engages students to get a real life feel for their chosen work. Each student has a learning plan and a job placement in their selected field of work. Through appropriate training and supervision, they are able to gain valuable memories and skills that will last a lifetime.

KCSS ART

Students at King City Secondary School are always working hard, not only on homework and being good students, but at making outstanding art work. King is full of artists that are truly talented people who are very expressive and creative.

Magic Is In The Air On Prom Night

Prom is a great time because its one last time where all the graduates get to have a nice night out together before they all go their seperate ways.

The food was great and everyone was dressed their best. The music couldn't have been better and was perfect for dancing the night away.

Strike A Pose!

Many students at King City are quite caught up with the tishion that is rapidly changing. By walking down the halls at lunch or between classes you will be sure to see many of the scylish people here. Whether it's cute ripped jeans with a vintage t-shirt, dress pants and a blazer, or a cute little dress, it is almost guaranteed that someone will be meaning one of these outfits. ## Aphrodite Brings Love Into The Air

Throughout the halls of K.C.S.5 you are sure to see many students who are young and in love. This past year there have been many breakups, make-ups and new relationships that have blossomed. While many people choose to date a variety of people, there are always the few students that become high school sweethearts. Couples may have their fights and disagreements, which may not always end in the best result, but that is just one part of a rela> tionship that you have to deal with. Prom, semi, school dances, and even while playing sports or at events, you will be sure to see many of King City's couples out and about.

All I Want for Christmas...

Christmas is a time to spend with friends and family and what a better way to do that then with door decorating a holiday assembly, and a chance to meet Santa. The annual class door decorating contest is always a fierce battle with everyone looking for the top prize. This year every class did exceptional work and everybody got the feeling of a job well done. As for the holiday assembly, students put on a great show filled with joy and laughter-just what Christmas is all about. Finally the man (girl) behind the beard and jolly belly was Erin Shwartz who had plenty of fans. People lined up for a mile for a chance to meet Santa and even get a picture with him (if you were good this year).

Some fun and simple rules to surviving King City

KCSS Homework Guide

Students should not spend more then ninety minutes per night on their homework. This time should be spent as follows:

-15 minutes looking for the assignment

-11 minutes calling a friend for the assignment

-23 minutes explaining why the teacher is mean and doesn't like you

-8 minutes in the bathroom

-10 minutes getting a snack

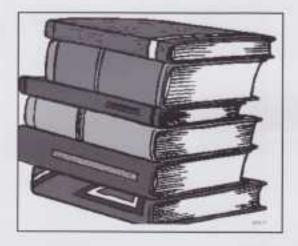

-7 minutes checking the TV guide

-6 minutes telling your parents that the teacher never explained the assignment

-10 minutes sitting at the kitchen table waiting for Momor Dad to do the assignment

By following these simple rules, homework will be the last thing you worry about:

Mauro Angelucci (gr. 12) takes rule #6 a little too seriously.

Top 10 Traits of a KCSS Student:

1. You consider Macm Cheese a balanced meal.

You have a fine collection of domestic beer bottles.

You often see two consecutive sunrises in a row.

Your underwear supply dictates your laundry loads.

You can pack your worldly possessions into the back of your pick up truck.

6. Your bed time is no longer 10p.m., but 3a.m.

You consider pizza to be one of the four major food groups.

You consider the other three to be beer, McDonalds and candy.

 You send an email to people that live with you
 You've spent a good hour searching for your student ID just so you could get one dollar off at the movies.

Art to Last the Ages

Art is an expression, and the classes at King City are home to the most creative and expressive people in the school. Art takes on many forms; be it sculpture, canvas paintings, charcoal sketch or anything your mind can conceive of. Interesting characters can always be found working in the art room, busy pushing the limits of imagination.

Right: Words personified.

Family Studies

The Family Studies Department has any different branches, such as Law, Food&Nutrition, Anthropology, Sociology and Psychology, Fashion, Individual and Family Living, and Social Science classes.

Above: Catherine Rowe and Sarah Kirkby bake us a treat. Left: Fashion students show off their creations.

Top: This girl puts on a show during open house, as she demonstrates the art of pajama making.

IRON CHEF

One big event that occurs in the Food & Nutrition class is their annual Iron Chef Competition. There are three trial matches where the winner is decided at the end of the three days. The dishes created were very inventive and savoury. You can really see the creativity flow in this display of culinary prowess.

Above Left: This student really bit off more than he could chew. Above Middle: This grade 10 really wants to be in this picture - why? we don't know. Above Right: Here is a member of the kitchen staff who handles the school's bling. Bottom Right: Students as far as the eye can see are all wondering why the camera person is there to begin with.

The school was built in the fall of 1961 when dinosaurs roamed the earth. Since then, the kids have hung out in various places such as the front, the parking lot, or under the staircase. The cafeteria has been the one constant factor in these past forty five years where people talk about everything from exams to grand slams. It has been there through the days of the Bee Gees, Michael Jackson, and the Spice Girls (Thank God those days are over). It is and will always be part of King City's identity.

And Cleaning it Up!

We have a very clean school and it's all because of the hard work of our caretaking staff who work year round and do so with a smile. They are both hard-working and humourous. As you can see below they have a lot of fun in them too.

Left:Two of our brave caretakers are on their way to the cafeteria after a storm of students have just hit it.

Above: Darth Vader and Obi-Wan Kenobi have nothing on these two. Which one is on the Dark Side?

Above: Another one of our caretakers hands this student a cafeteria coupon - this school's equivalent to the lottery

Always something good going down at guidance!

What happens when something is wrong and you have no one to turn to? Whether it's a classroom problem or an issue outside of school, the friendly people in guidance are always free to lend a helping hand. They're caring, friendly, and attentive and most of all are always there to listen. If you ever need to change a course - remember that guidance is always there to resolve it. There is no problem too big or too small and all questions about your education are good questions. Just remember to make an appointment!

'Just What I Needed' (A little bit of studying)

When a big test is just around the corner, the library is the seriect place to study in a quiet and calm atmosphere. Or if you sed information for a final summative and need a computer, sere's usually one waiting for you. As well there are plenty of good sooks to curl up with and exercise your brain. Whatever you seed - the library has it and at a good price; free.

What Do You Make?

Dinner guests were sitting around a table discussing life.
One man, a CEO, decided to explain the problem with education.
He argued, "What's a kid going to learn from someone who decided his best open in life was to become a teacher?"

He went on to tell the other dinner guests that he thought it was true what t say about teachers. Those who can't do Those who can't teach.

To corroborate his statements, he said to another guest, 'You're a teacher, Su

What do you make?

Susan, who had a reputation of honesty and frankness, replied,

You want to know what I make?

I make kids wonder.

I make them question.

I make them criticize.

I make them apologize and mean it.

I make them write.

I make them read, read, read.

I make them spell "definitely and beautiful" over and over again, until they will never misspell one of those words again.

> I make them show all their work in math and hide it all on their final drafts in English.

I make them experience music and art and the joy in performance, so their line are rich, full of kindness and culture.

and they take pride in themselves and their accomplishments. I make them understand that if you have the brains, then follow your heart a if someone ever tries to judge you by what you make, you pay them no attents

Working Their Way to the Top

As the grade tens enter their second year of high school, they quickly realize they are no longer the miner-niners they use to be. This year they get to show the grade nine's the ropes and show them what King is all about. Grade ten is the year when you begin to know who you are and maybe who you are going to become!

Cruising Through School

Grade eleven is a huge transition for students. They are beginning to plan out their future, but are still able to have fun. They're no longer considered one of the youngins' of the school.

yet they still have the grade twelve's to look up to. It is in grade eleven that you truly get to enjoy life at King, and begin to understand the responsibilities that lie ahead.

Ski and Snowboard Team

The Ski and Snowboard team at King City get together over the months of December to March. In early December to early January, the two teams start their training, which consists of dry land training and on hill training with gates. From the middle of January to the beginning of March, the skiiers and snowboarders compete in six to seven races. This year, the teams tried their best and had a pretty successful season. The girls snowboard team, former all Ontario Champions for the last six years, had a great season with all 1st and 2nd placings. The boys snowboard team had a lot of tough competition, but managed to place 3rd and 4th in a couple of races. The girls ski team skiled amazing but had some bad luck with a few falls. And great effort to the boys ski team.

The Science Olympics this year proved to be a big success, as many of King's students were honoured with the top awards. What's next for these future scientists? The sky is the limit for these Einsteins-in-training. What makes this event even more important is that in the regular olympics we celebrate physical excellence, while in the science olympics, we celebrate intellectual excellence. Participating in the science olympics is a great way to learn about chemistry, physics, biology, and astronomy. These budding scientists are some of many who will lead us into the future.

KCSS Meets Broadway

This year's edition of the toast festival was another great success. Many long hours went into the rehearsals and preparations for the production. The actors did a fantastic job and Mr. Shoenhardt was hilarious as he stole the show as the tooth fairy. As well the stage crew were sharp as usual under the guidance of Jason McKendry. The audience was great and filled the gym with little to no seats left. It was the hard work and dedication of all those involved that made this event possible. ### The Power of Orpheus Lives On Music Night at King City drew quite a crowd, as it promised a wonderful showcase of musical talent. Performances ranging from the choir, to the senior/junior band, to the jazz band, were much anticipated. Orpheus was the greatest musician of Greek myth, whose music had the power to influence Hades and cause inanimate objects to move. The music definitely moved people on this cold November night, and everyone who participated had a great time performing.

Scruing King City for 47 Years

12765 KEELE STREET KING CITY

Ken McQuarrie

Whether it's hanging out with friends or just playing sports on a warm spring day, the main thing is to look good doing it. That's why it's important to be seen at the hot spots in King City when it's lunch time or if you have a spare. Some of the most favourite places to chill, include the library and Shoeless Joe's. They are affordable and offer calm, clean, and comfortable environments to read, eat, and socialize with friends.

The Land of Edward Pottage

[Pottageville, for you outsiders]

It may be small, but everyone has a good time in Pottageville. A surprisingly large amount of King City students hang out in this tiny hamlet, in between Kettleby and Schomberg. You can always find someone you know walking down the 7th Concession or Aurora Sideroad whether they actually live there, or are just hanging around the P. Dot. Walk for yourself and you will have many a car honking and waving as they pass you by. Here everyone's your pal. If you have the munchies or need gas, you can visit Kavita Damarait and her parents at Jay's Variety and Gas Bar. If you need a place to enjoy the sunset you can visit Coyote Hill for its fantastic view of everything all the way to Simcoe County. Take some time to enjoy the open spaces at Pottageville Park which draws a crowd of rowdy teenagers after dark. Or if you're the adventuresome type, head down to the local nudist colony on the 7th concession. If you're up for a jam you could go to Mike Mueller's house to hear the metal band Gibeah Condemned perform in the living room, or to Dean Kindness's house to watch in awe at the impressive fretboard dancing of Saints Memorial. There's lots to do if you know your way around or if you look hard enough.

Left: The end of pavement, and civilization on the 7th Concession: Right: For the adventuresome, the nudist club membership is free and they're happy to invite you to join.

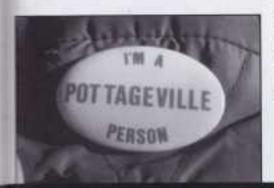

Clockwise from left: The practice spot for Saints Memorial and the world headquaters of Pioneer Paving Inc; Ryan Barnicke can be seen walking around the P-Dot along with occasional shady lurker Matt Sylwanowicz; Emma Greenfield, don't hate her because she's trendy; Dean "Deaner" Kindness taking a break from making original music; Crop circles on the ice?

The Berg (Schomberg)

Schomberg is considered the northern point of the King region - a small town with attitude. The Schomberg Agricultural fair takes place every spring in the Schomberg fairgrounds. A big hockey town full of farmers and hockey players. It's an old community full of history and customs. Many of the original families that started in Schomberg are still living there today and their kids attend King. There is always a party in Schomberg.

Thanks for the Support Aurora and Newmarket!

The towns of Aurora and Newmarket are not only great places to visit, but they are home to many of King's students. There are plenty of things to see and do within these communities and you'll always be welcomed with a smile.

Clare Ingham enjoys jumping around and being crazy!

Marco Sacilotto got crazy with his facial hair,

This student is always smiling for one reason or another.

These grade 11 girls like to hang out at lunch.

Ash Ford found these sweethearts in HER car!

Taylor Burnett has talent. He can balance a pop can on his head... look no hands!

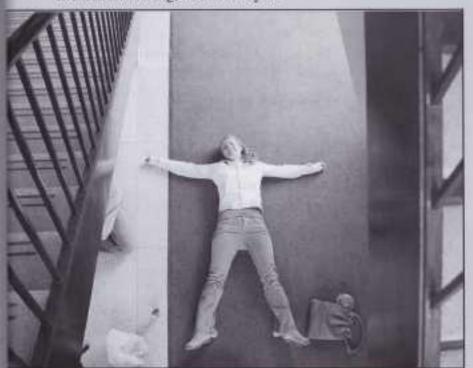

Mrs. Francis feels like she's going crazy by the end of the day.

Guess who this is ...

Meagan Curran randomly attacks her good friends.. it's ok Meg, we still love you.

Kristiina Aaltonen is convinced she's a star fish.. we won't tell her she's crazy.. she can figure it out on her own.

Ash Ford tries to avoid going to class by hiding in her locker.
