2015 2016 KCSS Yearbook
Principal's Message

A huge thank you to the small group of students in the Yearbook club who have compiled this collection of memorable events from the past year for us to enjoy now and in the future your time, effort and dedication are very much appreciated. As well, thank you to Ms. Claro, Ms. D'Errico and Ms. Roti for their talent and leadership with respect to the production of this book.

The theme of this year's book is 'Superheroes' from comic books. As we all know, Superheroes are characters with unique abilities and skills that go beyond what you or I are able to do. These abilities and powers "take many forms, including but not limited to advanced physical abilities, flight, mind powers, control over elements or the weather, and the use of advanced technology or magic. Some heroes, like Batman, are normal human beings who use martial skills and intelligence to be super." [1]

It is interesting to note that "many Superheroes were not born Superheroes but become them. For example, The Green Lantern puts on a ring for his powers, Superman puts on a cape, Spiderman was bit by a radioactive spider and the Hulk was hit by gamma radiation." [2] I believe it's possible for each one of us to acquire our own superhero qualities as well in order to become a person of strength and conviction, of perseverance and commitment, of character and decency, who makes a difference in life by making a difference in the lives of others. Perhaps there is a superhero inside each one of us and it's our job to discover how to release these powers already there. By developing the traits and characteristics that superheroes possess, we can develop the personal power to soar to new heights of personal growth, happiness and success and do amazing and inspiring things in our lives.' [3] Ultimately, it's what a person does with their abilities that make them a Superhero. In looking through the pages of this yearbook, it would seem that thankfully we already have a number of superheroes in our midst.

King is a wonderful school where students continue to receive an outstanding academic education complemented with opportunities to participate in our arts (visual, music, dance & drama) and athletics programs as well as various clubs and activities. In this yearbook, you will view a glimpse of the devotion of your teachers and fellow students as they participate in the co-curricular life of KCSS. Events such as ROC King, Remembrance Day Ceremony, Semi-Formal, Toast Performances, Music Night, SAC activities, academic contests in Math, Science, Computer Science and Robotics as well as various clubs and competing passionately on sports teams, are some of the many moments captured in this yearbook. We are very fortunate to have a great variety of activities at KCSS. My sincere thanks to the students and staff who have provided and supported these invaluable experiences for our young people this year.

In the years ahead, when you take a moment to enjoy these pictures, I hope that the pages of this yearbook will serve as a happy reminder of both the enriching experiences and the people who were part of them during your time with us. For those of you who are graduating, I hope that the lessons learned at KCSS have prepared you for an ever-changing world with confidence and determination. I encourage you to continually look for the opportunities that lie before you and take advantage of them to the very best of your ability. For those of you who are returning in the fall, on behalf of Ms MacDonald and Ms. Schmidt, we look forward to seeing all of you and hope that you each have a safe and terrific summer vacation.

Ms. McGinley
Principal

ROC KING
OCTOBER 7-9th

In early October Grade 9 students traveled to YMCA Camp Wanakita for the three day/two night ROC King excursion. Students new to King, from as far apart as Oak Ridges to Schomberg, had a chance to meet one another and form lasting friendships. From canoeing to high ropes, from kayaks to guitars, grade 9 students challenged themselves to experience new opportunities. Competitions such as the air bands, Scavination, and WALO brought students together to focus on teamwork and communication skills. This year a special attention was given to the York Region Character Education Traits, as grade 9's participated in the "Our School, Our Community" workshop, identifying and pledging to work on developing one of the character traits. Many thanks to all the staff and mentors who make this annual event such a success.

-Julie Morris

When thinking back to those three days at ROCKING, in all honesty I do not think about the actual activities we did as a whole. Rather, I think about the funny, amazing memories within those activities. I don't think about trying to climb a wall with no place to hold onto; I think about how I met two other rep volleyball players during that exercise. I don't think about learning some chords on the guitar; I think about singing at the top of my lungs with my new group of friends. I do not think about kayaking; I think about laughing until the point of tipping and almost falling in the water. I could not have asked for a better three days; ROCKING changed my high school experience after only a month of school.

The team played really hard this year and we had a lot of heart. Our commitment was great and it was one of my favorite teams to play on. I'm very proud of the whole team and was really happy to see everybody become better football players."

"I'm thankful to have played King City football for 5 seasons. I am proud to call all my teammates brothers. I speak for all of my brothers when I say thank you to coach Masty, coach Maui, coach Wood, and coach Thain for everything they do for this program and teaching us so much about dedication and hard work. I will miss everything about King City football and can't wait to help our in whatever way I can. These were the best years of my life. I will always bleed green and gold."

- Sr. Captain, Josh Menna

"The 2015 senior Lions had a successful season with some exciting last minute finishes. The season began with an exciting win over Bear Creek S.S. The boys came from behind after trailing at halftime to defeat the team from Barrie. Big victories over New Market, Bill Crothers, and Brother Andre helped cap off a great year and Tier 2 Championship season. In speaking for all of the coaches and players Mr. Matwijec and Mr. Masterson would like to thank the school body and community for their ongoing support."
